"MR. PRESIDENT!" CRIED TEDDY AND BILL EXCLAIMED: 'THEODORE!'

Roosevelt and Taft at Last Meet

Much Warmth Manifested When President and Ex-President Clasped Hands.

'BY GEORGE, IT'S JUST BULLY,' ROOSEVELT KEPT SAYING

For a Brief Period They Stood in a Sort of Embrace and Then Sat Down for a Heart-to-Heart Talk---Nothing to Indicate a Breach in Their Friendship.

Beverly, Mass., June 30.—For a full minute this afternoon President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt stood on the broad veranda of the president's cottage with hands on each other's shoulders, while evident delight shone in every line of their smile-enwreathed countenances.

"Mr. President"—it was Mr. Roosevelt who spoke, and there was earnest warmth in his salutations.

"Theodore!"

They patted each other affectionately on the shoulder. They laughed in a way that left not a single lingering doubt as to the exuberance of their feelings. They seemed utterly oblivious of the fact that there were others present.

"It used to be 'Mr. President and Will,' didn't it?" cried the colonel in his familiar high-pitched voice, "but it's now Mr. President and Theodore."

They Met With Warmth.

The two old friends met today after sixteen months of separation with all the warmth that used to characterize their association in Washington, slapped each other again on the arms and shoulders.

And so it went throughout the afternoon. The meeting was everything that the friends of the two have claimed it would be and the persistent prophecies of those who have contended all along that a coolness had developed between the two men proved to be utterly fallacious.

Colonel Roosevelt was still in the spirit of the renewed association with the president when, after two hours and twenty minutes spent with Mr. Taft and his family, he started away to spend another night with Senator Lodge.

As he was leaving the shaded grove of the president's cottage the president stopped to speak with several old newspaper friends from Washington.

"I had a most pleasant time with the president," he exclaimed.

"There is nothing particular to say, is there Cabot?" turning to Senator Lodge.

"No, I think not," put in the senator. "We had a most delightful time, and that is all there is to it," added the colonel.

"By George," Said Roosevelt.

"By George, look at those miscreants," he exclaimed as several photographers who had climber on a stone way for a vantage point began to click their cameras with a perfect fusillade of snapshots.

"Does Beverly come up to Oyster Bay?" some one asked.

"You know I'm fond of Oyster Bay," replied Mr. Roosevelt, "and I don't want to make any comparisons, but, by George, Beverly is beautiful. This whole north shore is perfectly lovely."

With a wave of his Panama hat, with a hearty word of goodby, he was off.

The president and Colonel Roosevelt walked about the verandas of the cottage for some time arm in arm.

They sat for a time in a secluded portion of the porch, overlooking the dancing waters. The afternoon was ideal. Their heads were close together, but scarcely a minute passed that their voices were not ringing with laughter. No meeting of the old friends cout have been more affectionate, and it deeply impressed the few who were permitted to witness the event that has been looked forward to with so much interest by practically the entire country.

Tea was served on the veranda. Mrs. Taft, Senator Lodge and Secretary Norton sat about the wicker table, and a merrier party would be difficult to imagine. The president was plainly affected; Colonel Roosevelt was unfeigned in his delight. Meantime, Senator Lodge, unfailing friend and intimate adviser of both, looked on with evident pleasure.

"It's Just Bully," He Said.

The former president met other old friends at Burgess Point. There was Rudolph Forster, assistant secretary to the president, who served in similar cacapcity under the Roosevelt administration.

"By George, it is good to see you,

New York G. O. P. Legislators Not Cowed by the Ex-President's "Big Stick."

DIRECT NOMINATION BILL WAS KILLED BY BIG VOTE

It Was Gov. Hughes' Pet Measure and Roosevelt Sent Message to Legislators Urging Its Passage---Roosevelt at Oyster Bay Not as Powerful as Roosevelt at Washington.

Albany, N. Y., June 30.—Theodore Roosevelt was beaten decisively today. Whatever may be the final outcome of his first adventure in politics since his retirement from the white house, he met defeat flat-footed at the hands of the republican organization in the assembly.

Big Vote Against Bill.

The Cobb direct nomination bill was killed in the assembly this afternoon after a long, hard fight. The final count stood 80 to 62 in favor of accepting the adverse report of the judiciary committee, which had the bill in charge.

The republicans in the senate held a caucus tonight, but only 23 senators were there. They voted to make a party measure of the Cobb bill, with the amendment proposed by Lloyd C. Griscom, chairman of the New York county republican committee and favored by Colonel Roosevelt. But it takes 26 votes to pass a bill in the senate, so that the situation was not cleared. Then the senate went into session and after a debate of several hours the body voted 24 to 23 to adopt the assembly resolution to adjourn sine die tomorrow at 2 p. m. The scene was almost as dramatic and exciting as though Colonel Roosevelt himself had been there to lead in the battle.

May Be Another Extra Session.

There is talk of still another special session. The assembly this afternoon voted to adjourn at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and if the legislature quits work with no primary bill passed and without having provided for necessary financial measures, the leaders say Governor Hughes may tell it back again.

Roosevelt was the potent figure in today's contest. It was a clear-cut issue between the ex-president and the "organization" leaders, and the leaders won.

It was a long, hot, tense day. From the moment that Colonel Roosevelt sent his telegram to Mr. Griscom urging the passage of the bill, things hummed. The situation suddenly became one which was regarded as of national significance. The question was whether Roosevelt, of Sagamore Hill, was mighty as Roosevelt of Washington. Those who had previously supported the Cobb measure, including even Governor Hughes, slipped into the background. In front of them all was the commanding figure of Theodore Roosevelt.

Speaker Wadsworth Glad.

Speaker Wadsworth was frankly glad at the turn things had taken.

"The action of the assembly today," Speaker Wadsworth said, "should not be construed as a gratuitous slap at the ex-president or at the governor. The assembly feels that it gave the fullest and most deliberate consideration to primary reform at the regular session.

"The supreme issue is whether the assembly shall swallow its convictions and deliberately reverse its honest judgment, and thereby announce to the legislatures of the future that the legislative branch of the government, supposedly independent, can be coerced and forced to occupy a secondary position in our system of government. It is a question far beyond that of the merits or demerits of direct primaries."

BROUGHTON TO PREACH TO THE LEGISLATORS

Subject: "The Church and Law-Making and Law-Executing Authorities."

On Sunday night Rev. Len G. Broughton will preach a sermon which is intended chiefly for the state legislators. His subject will be "The Church and the Law-Making and Law-Executing Authorities."

"I shall contend," says Dr. Broughton, "that the church has a right to be heard on such matters as affect the public morals. I shall also pay my respects to the efforts now being made to hoodwink the people into a change of the present registrative act in Georgia and the so-called popular election act in Atlanta. I shall discuss other evils which the devil is endeavoring to slip in on us."

Two Killed in Auto Crash.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio, June 30.—Rev. E. E. Lashley and Ralph Bledler, a hardware man from Fostoria, were instantly killed today and M. A. Stoneburier and James McConnell were probably fatally injured when their automobile jumped into a ditch near here. The steering gear got out of order and the chauffeur lost control.

Japan to Annex Corea.

Tokio, June 30.—There is every reason to believe that an announcement of the annexation of Korea by Japan is imminent. In accordance with the convention recently made between Korea and Japan, the Korean emperor has issued an edict delegating to the Japanese government the police administration of the country. This is the first step, and the final step will be taken when Korea is practically under guard. The garrisons are being steadily strengthened.

CONGRESSIONAL BRIBERY COMMITTEE CANNOT AGREE ON THE DATE TO TAKE UP SENATOR GORE'S CHARGES

Top row: Senators Hughes, Burton, Crawford, Percy and Jones. Bottom row: Representatives Campbell, Saunders, Stephens and Miller. The committee appointed by the senate and house to investigate the Senator Gore bribery charges will meet in Oklahoma City. The senators do not want to meet until the last week in July, but the congressmen are in favor of calling a meeting within the next ten days.

In the closing hours of congress blind Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, charged that bribes had been offered to secure passage of a bill which would have resulted in robbing the Indians in Oklahoma of millions. Ex-Senators Thurston, of Nebraska, and Long, of Kansas; Congressman McGuire, of Oklahoma, and Attorney McMurray were interested in the bill.

DID NOT CONFER WITH M'WHORTER

Hart Amazed by Rumor From Smith Headquarters

Is President of Union Point and White Plains Railroad, and Entitled to Pass, But Always Pays His Fare---Prosecuted Georgia Road for Taxes.

According to a report in circulation yesterday at Hoke Smith's headquarters, Judge John C. Hart, the latest candidate in the gubernatorial arena, is the railroad candidate for governor, and, if elected, will be dominated by the railroad influence.

The rumor was to the effect that Hamilton McWhorter, general counsel of the Southern railroad in Georgia, was the man behind the campaign of Judge Hart; that he had called on Judge Hart last Sunday night, in Atlanta, and, as the result of that conference, Judge Hart announced his candidacy for governor early Monday morning.

The report was further embellished with the details that both McWhorter and Hart live in the same congressional district; that Mr. Smith is particularly strong in the eighth congressional district, and carried most of the counties in the district in his last campaign. If Judge Hart can take votes away from Mr. Smith there, it will seriously cripple the latter. Therefore, the railroads, in an effort to again defeat Mr. Smith, put out Judge Hart to take away from Smith's following.

In other quarters it was said that Judge Hart was the president of a railroad, and rode on a free pass in making his week-end trips from Atlanta to his farm at Union Point.

Rumor Amazes Judge Hart.

Judge Hart was found in his office in the capitol, and asked the question:

"Did you have a conference with Judge Hamilton McWhorter on last Sunday evening in Atlanta, and was your candidacy for governor discussed at that time?"

The question affected Judge Hart like a blow in the face. He was plainly surprised, and almost dumfounded.

"I did not have a conference with Judge Hamilton McWhorter on Sunday in Atlanta, nor anywhere else, and the question of my campaign for governor has never been discussed with Judge McWhorter."

He spoke very quietly, but with an effort to suppress his emotion.

He was asked as to the truth of the second statement made by the opposition.

"Are you the president of the Union Point and White Plains railroad?"

"Replying to that question," he said, "I beg to advise you that I, together with other citizens of Greene county, about twenty years ago, conceived the idea of building a railroad from Union Point to White Plains, Ga., a distance of thirteen and one-tenth miles. I was elected its president then, and have remained its president ever since. The stock has no market value, but the road has proven a great convenience to the people, merchants and farmers of the community."

Never Rides on a Pass.

The small line of road in question is operated under the direction of the Georgia railroad. Under the laws of Georgia an employee or officer of a railroad is entitled to free transportation over the lines of the road. Judge Hart was asked:

"Is it true that you ride on a free

CLAY TO GIVE AID TO SMITH

Senator May Speak for Former Governor.

His Visit to the Hoke Smith Headquarters Enthuses the Workers There--His Son Taking Active Part in the Smith Campaign.

United States Senator A. S. Clay will support Hon. Hoke Smith in the present campaign for governor. If his health permits, he will make some speeches for Mr. Smith; otherwise, he will write to the state press giving his views.

The visit of Senator Clay to the Hoke Smith headquarters in the Peters building immediately upon his return from Washington greatly enthused the Hoke Smith workers. He spent some time at headquarters chatting with visitors.

Senator Clay lives in Cobb county. Cobb is also the home of Governor Brown. Though the two men live in the same county and in the same town of Marietta, they have never been particularly friendly, but have been on opposite sides in local politics. Two years ago Senator Clay threw the weight of his influence against Mr. Brown and in favor of Mr. Smith. It is expected he will do so again this year. He is very much run down as the result of the arduous work of the congressional session just closed, and may not be able to do any active work in the field. In that event, he will write a letter to the press stating his stand in the present campaign.

Herbert Clay, mayor of Marietta, and a son of United States Senator Clay, is taking an active part in behalf of former Governor Smith, and will aid in the effort to put Cobb county in the Smith column.

It is not now the purpose of Mr. Smith to make any speeches or hold any rallies in Cobb county, but he expresses the conviction that he will carry the county over Mr. Brown.

Mr. Smith states that his old friends all over the state are advising him in enthusiastic letters that they are organizing in his behalf. His supporters went to work at the first tap of the drum, he said, and are strengthening the membership of the Hoke Smith clubs everywhere. The former governor states that he has written 2,000 personal letters since the campaign opened, and is deeply gratified at the expressions of support he is receiving.

At the headquarters of Hoke Smith yesterday there was the usual hum of industry. Several new stenographers had been put to work answering the accumulation of correspondence, and a constant stream of visitors was being received by the former governor.

CONFESSION IS MADE ON OPIUM SMUGGLING

Charles C. Chisholm Gives Officers Names of Chinese Smugglers.

Charles C. Chisholm, arrested on the charge of smuggling opium across the Mexican border into Atlanta, yesterday made bond. Chisholm made a confession to federal officers that in New York, Philadelphia and New Orleans there were smugglers regularly at work shipping to interior points opium which had been smuggled across the border. He furnished the officials with the names of the parties. The names were of Chinese located in the cities indicated.

CLEARINGS SHOW $10,000,000 GAIN

Receipts for June Total $36,088,896.58.

Comparative Figures Are First Given Out for Over a Year, Owing to the New System of Collecting Out-of-Town Checks.

An increase of considerably more than $10,000,000 was made in the Atlanta clearing house receipts during the month which has just passed, over the same month last year. The report for the closing month shows that $36,088,896.58 passed through the clearing house within the past thirty days, as against 27,497,754.07 of June, last year.

This increase is nothing short of phenomenal, being slightly over 32 per cent. Only once since the establishment of the Atlanta clearing house has the increase in percentage been so large. This was in June, 1906, over June, 1905.

The comparative figures furnished at this time are the first which have been given out by the clearing house for more than a year past, as the inauguration of a new system of collecting out-of-town state checks, made more than one year ago, ran up the grand total to a certain extent, and the clearing house officers felt that to make comparisons of the results under the two different systems would be unfair, causing a seemingly larger increase than really existed.

The new system, which is the same as that in use in Boston, Mass., has been in use just one month more than a year at this time, and the comparison of June this year with the same month last year is the first one which could give an accurate idea as to actual increase which the clearing house receipts have experienced.

STALWARTS AND REBELS BREAK ABOUT EVEN

Half of North Dakota G. O. P. Regular and Half Insurgent.

Grand Fork, N. D., June 30.—Porter J. McCumber, stalwart, and A. J. Gronna, insurgent, have been nominated in the North Dakota republican primaries for the United States senate. McCumber succeeds himself, and Gronna succeeds the late M. N. Johnson. Thomas Marshall, former congressman, and Judge Edward Engerud are the defeated candidates.

For congress, L. B. Hanna, stalwart, was nominated to succeed himself, while H. T. Helgeson, insurgent, was nominated to succeed Congressman Gronna.

In the gubernatorial contest, C. A. Johnson, the stalwart candidate, has defeated J. A. Buchanan, the insurgent candidate. On the state ticket there is a split with both insurgents and stalwarts claiming victories.

Bid Doomed Brother Goodbye.

Richmond, Va., June 30.—Two sad figures at the capital tonight were the sisters of Angelo Hamilton, who came to bid the last farewell to their brother, who before 8 o'clock Friday morning will die in the electric chair for the murder of Mrs. Sallie Hicks at Lynchburg, Va. Governor William Hodges Mann has declined to extend clemency to the condemned man.

BIG FELLOWS IN READINESS FOR THE FIGHT

HUNDREDS OF VISITORS ARRIVING FOR CONTEST

Every Train Delivers People Who Are Bent on Seeing the Battle for World's Championship---Betting on the Contest at Reno Continues Light---Fitzsimmons on Way to Fight.

Reno, Nev., June 30.—James J. Jeffries and John Arthur Johnson are ready to fight. This morning completed the long training work, and they will merely do light exercise through the three days before they face each other in a 22-foot ring to fight out the heavyweight championship of the world.

"I am ready. My training is finished. With the exception of a sprint now and then to keep myself in shape, I will do no more work."

Jeffries at Card Table.

This was the declaration today by Jeffries. When he made it he was seated at a card table, where he had been all afternoon. He was playing hearts against Jim Corbett, Sam Berger and Dick Adams. A big heap of silver was piled before him, gleaned from the pockets of the other three, as the man who hopes to wrest the weight championship from Jackson next Monday afternoon was living like a boy over his luck.

"There will be no boxing," said Jeffries, and his tone plainly indicated that he meant what he said. From now until he steps into the ring to face Johnson, he will amuse himself as the spirit moves him. His year and a half of hard effort to put himself in shape to fight this great battle of his life is over, and, looking back over what he has done and forward to the work that he feels is yet for him to do, Jeffries says, "I am ready."

Johnson's Last Work.

Through the hours of fishing by Jeffries, Johnson worked energetically. Under the eye of the moving picture camera he toiled through a day of gymnasium boxing and posing. For the day the spotlight of public attention was his, and he basked in its rays with apparent enjoyment.

The only event of the day to mar his happiness was the clash with Joe Woodman. Johnson's conduct in that matter was dubbed "Chesterfieldian" by those who saw it, and by his courteous demeanor toward the man whom he deemed his enemy the champion won new friends.

It had been the intention of the champion to do his moving picture work before noon, but Johnson encountered Woodman on his return from his road jaunt in the morning, and asked Langford's manager to leave the camp. It was quietly done on both sides, without any display of temper or exchange of personalities. When Woodman had left, however, Johnson seemed to change his mind, and he did not go out to work before the camera until late in the afternoon.

It was nearly 4 o'clock before he began using the medicine ball, punching the bag and other exercises.

BLOODY HUMAN EAR SENT AS WARNING BY STRIKERS

Cleveland, Ohio, June 30.—Wrapped and a bottle of alcohol in which lay bloody human ear, Harry Coulby, sident of the Pittsburg Steamship mpany, received a letter here today which he was threatened with meless mutilation and death if he resed to accede to the demands of the ilors who have been on strike for o years.

The man to whom the ear belonged as already been identified as Edward razier, a non-union sailor who was ssaulted in Buffalo, N. Y., last Monay. After the assault his ear was overed from his head by his assailants. The man was picked up several hours later by the police. He was in a dying condition from loss of blood. Across his chest there was pinned a sheet of paper on which was written: "Don't be a scab!" On receipt of the letter Mr. Coulby turned it, together with the bottle and its gruesome contents, over to the federal authorities and a search was immediately commenced through every port on the Great Lakes for the perpetrators of the outrage. In the letter, which has been made public, it was explicitly stated that the writers were the same men who had assaulted Frazier.

SPEND $200,000 TO BOOST STATE

Greater Georgia Association Takes an Important Step.

At a meeting of the ways and means committee of the Greater Georgia Association, held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday morning, it was decided that at least $200,000 should be raised during the next year for the purpose of advertising to the world what Georgia has to offer in the way of natural advantages, agricultural products, and the like.

The question of selecting a secretary to take charge of the work of the association was not settled. It was the sense of the committee that the matter is one of such importance that they cannot afford to act hastily.

It was shown that advertising the advantages which any particular section of the state has to offer has, in many cases, proven successful far beyond expectations.

Headquarters for the association will be secured here within a short time. In these offices will be displayed not only the mineral and agricultural products of every section of the state, but photographs of growing crops, water power, manufacturies, and all such other matter as will help to give a visitor to the office a clear idea of the state.

For the present President W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie, will act as his own secretary, and the work of securing memberships, getting out literature, stationery, and all other such details, will be begun at once.

It is planned that J. Pope Brown, treasurer of the association, shall be provided with litographed certificates of membership which he shall mail to each individual, commercial body, or corporation becoming a member of the association.

Attorney Charles J. Haden, a member of the committee on ways and means, will draft a charter for the association within the next few days with a view to having the organization chartered as soon after beginning work as possible.

INTERURBAN LINE SOON TO BE BUILT

Work on Atlanta & Carolina to Start in 60 Days.

Line to College Park Will Be Constructed First--Large Capitalization Authorized---Hard Work of Matthew Mason Brings Project to Success.

Within the next sixty days construction work will begin on the Atlanta and Carolina railway, interurban electric railway, which, in addition to 8 miles of railroad in the streets of Atlanta, will build a direct line to Augusta by way of Athens, and a branch line to College Park.

Authority has been received by the company from the railroad commission of Georgia for a capitalization of $5,300,000, and for a bond issue of $6,000,000. All the necessary franchises have been secured, and practically all the rights-of-way.

The organization of the company has been completed. Captain J. W. English, is its president, and Matthew Mason, its vice president, general manager and chief engineer. The board of directors is composed of a number of the best business men of Atlanta and the other cities through which the road will pass.

To College Park First.

The line to College Park will be the first to be constructed, and will be commenced within the next two months. The line will pass out Pulliam street to Glenn, out Glenn to Murphey avenue, out Murphey avenue, and then on past Fort McPherson to College Park. At that point it will connect with another line continuing on to Fairburn.

The main line, from Atlanta to Augusta, which will not be started until later, will be remarkably direct, and yet will take in nearly all the important cities between the two termini. Leaving this city through East Atlanta, out Confederate avenue through White City and Grant park, the line will pass through Lithonia, Conyers, Walnut Grove, Jersey, Mount Monroe, High Shoals, Watkinsville, Athens, Crawford, Lexington, Washington and then to Augusta.

Connection at Athens.

Local trains will be run from Atlanta to Athens, which will connect with other local trains from Augusta to Athens. In addition to these locals, however, it is proposed to run through trains between Atlanta and Augusta. These trains will be composed of from three to five cars, as the traffic may demand, and will make the entire distance in 4¼ hours.

The equipment used will be the best that money can buy. Special provisions have been made to assure a hard, solid roadbed and to furnish the cars with the finest springs so that the patrons of the road may have the easiest riding possible.

Mason's Hard Work.

The establishment of the Atlanta and Carolina railroad has been due largely to the untiring efforts of Matthew Mason, its vice president, general manager and chief engineer. In addition to originating the enterprise five years ago he has since fostered its growth, undergoing the most disheartening disappointments and even suffering personal privations for its sake. When others have given up the fight, he has persisted and at last brought it to a successful termination.

Mr. Mason is a young Virginian, who has quite a reputation in engineering lines. For the last five years he has been connected with the Atlanta and West Point railroad in the capacity of advising engineer.

QUILLIAN WILL LECTURE AT BUSINESS UNIVERSITY

The Southern Shorthand and Business university continues to have instructive lectures every Friday at noon. The lecture today will be by Dr. Garnett Quillian. PLUMBERS ARE EXPECTED TO GO ON STRIKE TODAY

Unless Demands for 8-Hour Day Are Granted They Will Walk Out.

Journeymen plumbers and steam fitters of Atlanta will go on an eight-hour day work today or they won't work at all—that is if they are members of the Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Union. The union plumbers and gas fitters are working a nine-hour day, but some four or five months ago the master plumbers were notified by a committee from the union that on July 1 eight hours must constitute a day's work. Many of the master plumbers replied with a refusal, while others indicated that the request might be granted, while still others complied with the demands of the union, the concession to become effective July 1.

WILL OFFER BILL FOR CIVIC CENTER

Atlanta Will Ask Permission to Erect Plaza.

Will Only Ask Permission to Erect Structure Over the State's Property--Chamber of Commerce Committee Names Committee to Prepare Bill.

Atlanta is going after that "civic center" over the Georgia Railroad between the viaducts in dead earnest. The matter is to be put up to the legislature within the next two weeks. All the city is asking is permission to erect the plaza oxer the state's road, and if this is obtianed the plaza will become a reality in a comparatively short time it is believed.

The "civic center" committee of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon and appointed a subcommittee of three to draft a bill to be introduced in the legislature asking for the right to build the plaza over the Georgia road tracks. In return for this concession, it is thought, the bill will offer to build for the state a handsome depot.

The committee appointed to draft the bill is composed of Sam N. Evins, Alex Smith and E. V. Carter. The committee will draft the bill and report back to the entire committee Wednesday afternoon. If the bill as drawn is accepted it will then go before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce for ratification, after which it will be introduced with as little delay as possible.

The plan to erect a plaza connecting the Forsyth, Broad, Whitehall and Washington street viaducts was proposed several months ago. The matter was gone into at some length at that time, but it was decided that nothing definite could be done until the general assembly could act on the matter of granting the city the right to build over the state's tracks. In case the state grants this permission, it is believed that the funds necessary to erect the plaza can be secured without serious difficulty.

JUNE BUILDING PERMITS SHOWS $75,000 INCREASE

All Records for the Month of June Broken by That of 1910.

The building permits for the month of June broke all records. Permits were issued by the building inspector aggregating $715,822, which shows a gain of $75,000 over June of last year. The total amount of permits for buildings in the city for the first six months of this year foot up $3,980,713, as against $3,036,111 for the same period in 1909. This is a gain of $944,602.

SCRATCHED HEAD TILL IT WAS RAW

Eczema Broke Out on Baby's Head Causing All Her Hair to Fall Out —Could Not Sleep — Spread of Fearful Disease Averted and Easy, Economical Cure Effected, for

A FRIEND ADVISED USE OF CUTICURA

"When my little girl was four months old her head broke out with eczema. I tried everything but nothing did her any good. She could not sleep at night and she did nothing but scratch her head, which was like a raw piece of meat. All of her hair fell out. A friend of mine told me about Cuticura and the good it did for her little boy. After the first cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment I used I could see a change. I used just two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and my little girl's head is cured. Her hair is growing fine and long and her skin is like velvet. Friends say that my quick action in using the Cuticura Remedies kept the eczema from spreading all over her body.

"I still use the Cuticura Soap and always keep a box of Cuticura Ointment in the house. I used them for my hands, which were so badly chapped that the skin would crack and bleed. I would cry with pain. My hands are entirely cured now. You certainly have my permission to publish this letter in any paper, for I know how wonderful Cuticura is. Mrs. F. Davis, 209 E. Indiana St., Chicago, Ill., Jan. 18, 1909."

Itching Devils Are little patches of eczema on the skin, scalp or hands which are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings of Cuticura Ointment, purest and sweetest of emollients.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Cuticura Ointment (50c.) and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, Mass.

NO MORE LICENSES FOR BEER SHOPS

Committee Opposed to Granting Any More.

Six More Were Granted Yesterday, However --- Four Were Also Turned Down---Committee Thinks That Atlanta Has Enough Saloons.

It was the decision of the police committee of council yesterday afternoon that very few, if any, additional near beer licenses will be granted in the future.

Up to date 187 saloons have been licensed, and the committee thought this quite enough for a city of Atlanta's size. On Decatur, Marietta and Peters street, removed from the business center, all applications will be turned down hereafter.

The committee hopes that some of the saloons will drop out when the ordinance separating whites and negroes goes into effect, October 1.

Six More Licensed.

Licenses for six additional saloons were acted upon favorably Thursday afternoon, four were adversed and one held up.

T. M. (Jack) Horner withdrew his application for a license at 172 Peachtree street, and W. A. McCullough withdrew his application for 42 Madison. Both of these places met with objections.

W. A. Gresham, at 41 Marietta street, was granted a license until August 1.

A fight was made on the applications for licenses by Meinheim & Powell at 11 Edgewood avenue, and by W. R. Burton, at 18 Decatur street. The committee voted unanimously for the Edgewood avenue saloon, but divided on the Decatur street saloon, Alderman Pomeroy giving notice that he would make a minority report against the license.

Mr. Schurman was refused a license at 120 Decatur street. Applications for licenses at 252 Decatur street, 580 Decatur street and 484 Decatur street were turned down.

Petition from Preachers.

A petition was read from a large number of pastors, who asked that all licenses for near beer be refused. The paper was ordered filed.

A request from the police board asking that a charter amendment be secured giving council the power to pension policemen and firemen was held up.

A favorable report was made on an ordinance by Councilman Warnock prohibiting whites and negroes from eating in the same restaurants.

All the reports will go before council next Monday afternoon.

1910 RAINFALL BELOW NORMAL

Weather Man Explodes 'Rainiest Season' Theory.

Weather conditions throughout the south during the past forty-eight hours have been very unsettled. A storm of considerable strength yesterday spread over the middle gulf states, heavy rains falling in many places, as much as 4 inches being reported from one station in Alabama, and from 2 to 3 inches at other points in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi.

The forecast for today is: "Stormy, and probably warmer."

On account of the recent spell of precipitation there has been a great deal said by weather watchers that this is the rainiest season the city has had for years. It is not. The weather bureau substantiates that statement with their records for the past fifty-one years. Comparing the first six months of 1910 with the first six months of every year in the past five, it has the lowest amount of rainfall, with the exception of 1907. Here are the figures:

1906—January, 6.78 inches; February, 0.56; March, 10.86; April, 0.81; May, 3.47; June, 5.96 Total, 28.44 inches.

1907—January, 1.76 inches; February, 4.63; March, 2.42; April, 3.63; May, 3.59; June, 1.95. Total, 17.98 inches.

1908—January, 4.64 inches; February, 4.40; March, 3.57; April, 7.36; May, 2.95; June, 3.04. Total, 25.96 inches.

1909—January, 1.82 inches; February, 8.07; March, 9.09; April, 5.77; May, 2.11; June, 4.43. Total, 31.28 inches.

1910—January, 6.49 inches; February, 4.13; March, 2.03; April, 3.15; May, 6.39; June, 5.00. Total, 24.19 inches.

The normal rainfall for Atlanta for this period, January to July, is 26.80 inches. The normal precipitation is found by getting the total rainfall for the month or months in the last fifty-one years, and dividing that sum by 51.

The normal temperature for the first six months of the year is as follows: January, 4.78 inches; February, 5.05; March, 5.57; April, 4.07; May, 3.37; June, 3.96. Total, 26.80 inches.

The maximum rainfall for any month was in January, 1883, the precipitation being 15.82 inches.

The largest amount of rainfall in any year was that in 1888 of 64.98 inches.

It can readily be seen from the above that the first six months of this year have had less rainfall than any in the last five, except 1907; that the month of June for this year has had more rainfall than any of those years, except 1906; that May had more rainfall than any May in those years.

The board of health some time ago decided to revise its rules about the placarding of houses in which there are infectious diseases. Hereafter houses in which there are cases of typhoid fever and meningitis will be placarded as well as houses containing cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever.

Furniture Forethought

The standard of quality that governs our furniture buying is a criterion for your safety in selection, in relation to style, finish and durability.

Our entire stock (and it is large and varied) bears us out unqualifiedly in this respect.

Our lines show absolute freedom from unsalable or undesirable styles and patterns.

Conservatism in selection on our part makes stock half sold when bought. We have always catered to a trade that appreciates, seeks and demands quality—and the effect of this discrimination is obviously featured throughout the different lines.

Clean, bright, sound and substantial are the specifications, with artistic effectiveness always an attribute.

We cordially invite the Furniture-buyer to make our selections a study—nor feel the slightest obligation to buy, if analysis does not conclusively confirm decided advantages in patronizing us.

82,182 MILES PUBLIC ROADS

$2,506,980 Spent by State in One Year on Roads.

The state of Georgia spent last year on public roads the sum of $2,506,980, or an average of $1.08 per inhabitant, according to a report just issued by S. W. McCallie, the state geologist.

This figure represents all the cost, including an estimate of $450,000 as the value of the free labor employed by the state. The estimated mileage of public roads is 82,182. Of this total mileage, 4,533 miles of road were surfaced with stones, shells, gravel and sand-clay mixtures. This constitutes about 5 per cent of the total road mileage.

Fulton leads the list in the matter of improved roads. This county has 300 miles of road surfaced with stone or shells and 25 miles that are otherwise improved, leaving 78 miles of road in this county unimproved.

Chatham county has 105 miles of road surfaced with shell and the cost was $3,500 per mile.

Walker county has 234 miles of road surfaced with chert or gravel. Richmond has 100 miles surfaced with stone and 80 miles surfaced with sand-clay mixture. The cost to Richmond county was $1,600. Washington county has 200 miles of sand-clay roads, and Burke has 400 miles.

As to the subject of total expenditures for roads and bridges the following figures are given: Fulton county, $218,000; Richmond, $64,900; Sumter, $50,000; Bibb, $49,152; Chatham, $40,000; Washington, $38,500; Appling, $35,375; Coweta, $37,598.

Those counties which have spent as much as $20,000 and less than $25,000 are Bartow, Ben Hill, Carroll, Cobb, Coweta, Gwinnett and Jackson.

The report of Mr. McCallie acknowledges indebtedness to the prison commission and to Captain Goodloe Yancey, of the commission.

Of the 146 counties of the state, 107 employ convicts and 39 use statute or hired labor, the total number of convicts employed being 4,579.

Wisdom for Mothers.

Too many mothers lose their heads—become excited when their babies cry and fret with colicky pains. They rush for paregoric and soothing syrups, little thinking that in thus "doping" the baby they are simply deadening the pain without removing the cause of the trouble.

Strong drugs and patent medicines are not meant for little stomachs. Opiates and sleeping potions act on the child's nerves and brain; often doing permanent harm instead of accomplishing good. Mothers should remember this and when baby is fretful and peevish they should safeguard baby's future by giving a wholesome, harmless remedy which corrects the bowels and stomach and brings real relief by taking away the cause of the pain.

Nothing is more effective or safer than this simple, home-made remedy: To a half teacup of water add one-fourth cup of ordinary granulated sugar; heat until sugar is dissolved; let stand until cool; then add one ounce Medoflor. This makes a pleasant, mild, corrective remedy for colic, teething, stomach trouble, constipation and other little childhood ills. A teaspoonful of this mixture given when needed gives to the child the satisfaction of a quick relief, and to you the gratification of knowing that you have found an inexpensive, valuable, child remedy without the dangers of harmful patent medicines or drugs.

BOOSTERS TALK GOOD ROADS TOUR

Constitution's Offer Is Greeted by Applause.

Albany, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—A pouring rain which began early last night and continued throughout today did not deter an enthusiastic delegation from each of the four counties, chiefly interested from coming to Albany today to attend the good roads conference called to prepare preliminary plans for this section's part in the fall good roads four. Thomas, Mitchell, Colquitt and Worth counties were represented by large and enthusiastic delegations. Most of the boosters came in autos, but in several instances the roads were flooded to such an extent that it was necessary to quit the machine and take to trains. However, all were here at the noon hour, when the meeting was called to order by Mayor N. F. Tift in the city hall.

Keen Competition Between Towns.

The largest apartment in the building was taxed to its capacity, standing room being at a premium. The keenest sort of competition between Moultrie and Sylvester on the one hand and Camilla and Pelham on the other developed. C. W. Pidcock and W. E. Aycock, of Moultrie, leading the fight fore the one and J. L. Hand, of Pelham, and Judge I. A. Bush, of Camilla, the other faction.

There was no end of speech-making and the delegations were worked up to a degree of high enthusiasm over the contest. The meeting lasted several hours, most of the delegates forgetting all about the dinner hour. It was nearly 3 o'clock before the meeting adjourned after adopting a compromise route, or rather two routes, leaving the contestants free to choose between them. One is from Thomasville to Albany via Moultrie and Sylvester, and the other via Camilla, Pelham and Baconton.

The announcement of Frank Weldon that he was authorized by The Atlanta Constitution to head the prize money list with a subscription of $2,000 was received with prolonged applause.

BUREAU TO WORK FOR CONVENTIONS

Plan for Visiting Atlanta Is Proposed.

A convention bureau, the duty of which shall be to bring Atlanta every possible important convention, will most probably be established here under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Hotel Men's Association within the next few months. The bureau, it is planned, will be in charge of a secretary or other officer, whose duty it shall be to keep informed as to what conventions Atlanta has a chance of landing and to assist in concentrating all possible pressure to get the meeting to this city.

The bureau was proposed at a meeting of the convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce held yesterday morning at the Kimball. At this meeting were a number of the city's best known hotel men, and they announced themselves as heartily favoring the proposition. The committee took no definite action, save to accept an invitation on the part of the Hotel Men's Association to a luncheon at the Capital Grand Saturday night, at which the movement will be given definite shape.

It is expected that the convention committee will make favorable report on the matter to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon. A committee from the Hotel Men's Association will also be present to urge the matter, it is said.

In case the directors favor it, it is proposed to ask the city council for assistance.

DIVISION OF PULASKI BRINGS MUCH DEBATE

Another Mass Meeting at Hawkinsville Marked by Many Speeches.

Hawkinsville, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—A mass meeting was held here today to hear the report of the committee representing each precinct in Pulaski, appointed for the purpose of suggesting a line for the proposed division of Pulaski wanted by Cochran and its advocates.

The committee reported that no line could be agreed upon nor considered. After this various speeches were made for and against any new county, expressions being taken by a vote.

No call was made for another meeting. Those advocating a division will now probably have a bill introduced in the legislature which will be strenuously fought by the opposition.

NEGRO IS MUTILATED BY U. S. SOLDIERS

Negro Resisted Attempt to Take Two Girls From Him.

Washington, June 30.—Through information filed with State's Attorney Bowie, of the Waters, Montgomery county, Maryland, officials of the war department learned today of a brutal assault and mutilation of a negro near the Gettysburg battlefield by two United States soldiers.

According to the information, the negro, Henry Stewart, was walking with two negro girls Sunday evening, when two uniformed men attempted to separate the girls from Stewart. A fight followed, which resulted in the soldiers carrying the negro man to a nearby woods, where the further assault is said to have taken place.

Stewart is in a critical condition. Attorney Waters believes the assault was committed by soldiers from Fort Myer, Va.

HARD DAY'S WORK FOR GOV. BROWN

Preparing Special Message on W. & A. Terminals.

Governor Receives a Call From Hewlett Hall, Who Succeeds Judge Hart as Attorney General---Many Pledges of Support Are Received.

Governor Brown put in a hard day's work yesterday devoted largely to the preparation of a special message in regard to the proposed purchase of land in Chattanooga, Tenn., for use as terminals of the state road. This message he will send in early next week.

During the day he received a lengthy call from Hon. Hewlett Hall, whom he has appointed attorney general of Georgia to succeed Judge John C. Hart. The latter's resignation takes effect July 15.

A large number of pledges of support from his friends in all parts of the state were received by Governor Brown yesterday.

Pledges of Support.

The following were given out for publication by Secretary A. H. Ulm:

Richmond County—"It seems to me that Richmond ought to give you a majority of at least 1,500 in this election."

Coffee County—"Rest assured that we will take care of this end of the line for you. You may put Coffee in your column as before."

Butts County—"I think you can count Butts in the Brown column with a larger majority than she gave before."

Calhoun County—"I do not see how anyone who wishes fair play and a good administration can find fault with you as governor. From the expressions I hear, I believe the people generally are satisfied, and will indorse you for a second term."

Decatur County—"In one hour and thirty minutes' work today, sixty-seven members were enrolled in the Joe Brown club."

Forsyth County—"We are going to give you Forsyth all right."

Haralson County—"I see no reason to think that Tallapoosa and Haralson county will reverse their former record of a nice majority for you. I have heard of no changes in favor of Smith."

Success Beyond Question.

Putnam County—"The success of your administration is beyond question, and the peace and prosperity of the commonwealth argues well for you."

Pike County—"I think the prospects are that your supporters will give you even a larger majority than before."

Irwin County—"The people are with you, regardless of who runs."

Telegram—Valdosta, Ga., June 29, 1910.—Governor Joseph M. Brown, Atlanta, Ga.: Lowndes county will give you a nice majority over the field. I hope other counties will do likewise. If you think advisable, you can publish this message. (Signed) W. B. Connoley.

Lowndes County—"Lowndes county for you against the field."

Glynn County—"You have made good on every count, and I believe the people of Georgia will show their appreciation."

Berrien County—"I think you can count on this county to be in the Brown column by a large majority."

Chattooga County—"We are going to carry Chattooga for you this time, as we have many new converts from the Smith ranks."

Brown Club Formed.

Dodge County—"Brown club was formed here on the 27th, with the following officers: Dr. J. D. Herrmann, mayor of Eastman, president; Dr. J. B. Clark, vice president; Mr. E. E. Persons, secretary and treasurer."

Coffee County—"I want to assure you that you haven't lost any friends or votes. We expect to give you a better majority this time than before. We are proud of your administration."

Mitchell County—"It is not an uncommon thing to find a man that supported Mr. Smith in the last election that is now going to vote for you; but I have not found a single one that supported you and is now against you."

Berrien County—"We have been unable to find a man that you have lost. The Hoke Smith people are in pandemonium trying to find where to light."

Bartow County—"I fully believe there are enough of us left (whom he did not succeed in disfranchising) to again land you in the executive chair."

Calhoun County—"I feel sure that you can count on old Calhoun county by a larger majority than you carried it before."

Burke County—"You know Burke has always been strong for Governor Smith (as he once taught school here), but we feel sure of carrying it for you this time, and promise to put forth our best efforts."

REFUSED TO ENJOIN ROME LIGHT COMPANY

Injunction Against Company Brought by Mrs. Loeb Is Dismissed.

Rome, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—An interesting case where there was a probability that the Rome Railway and Light Company would be seriously crippled was that tried before Judge Maddox today, when he refused to enjoin the trolley company from using water out of Silver creek on the ground that an injunction is not the proper remedy to settle the case in which Mrs. Stella Loeb was the plaintiff.

Mrs. Loeb, as owner of a large tract of land and the Silver creek dam, claimed that there had been recently constructed upon the land adjacent to the mill pond a number of industrial plants which, without legal right or authority, makes use of the water of the pond. She cited the Rome Railway and Light Company as one of these plants. She claimed that the railway and light company had been using about 40,000 gallons of water per day in their operation of the plant, 5 per cent of which was wasted; that the water was worth $1,000 per annum.

She says the contract was made December 23, 1907, and terminated December 31, 1909. She further declared that the company trespassed on her land by erecting a line of poles across it for the purpose of carrying electric current to Rome. This was done without authority, she alleged. She asked that the company be permanently enjoined from using the water from the mill pond, and also from maintaining a line of poles, and that she be given judgment at the rate of $1,000 per annum from December, 1897, to January 1, 1910, and $500 per annum for use of her land for maintaining poles during the same period.

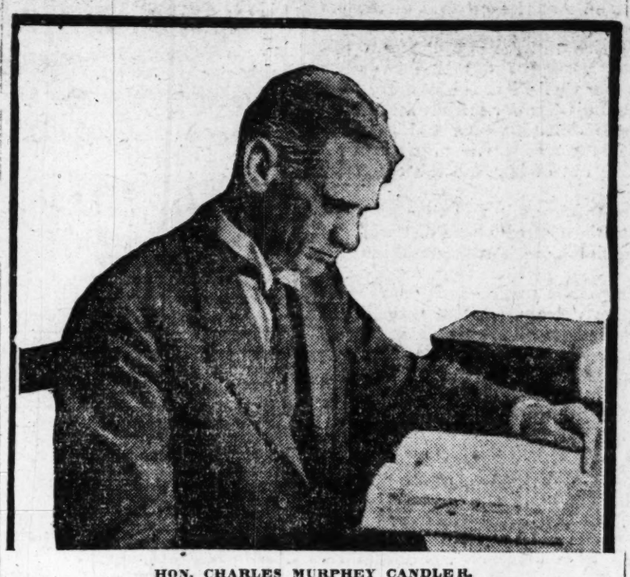
MURPHEY CANDLER ANNOUNCES FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER



HON. CHARLES MURPHEY CANDLER,
Of DeKalb, Who Announces for Reelection to the Railroad Commission.

Hon. Charles Murphey Candler, of DeKalb, a member of the railroad commission by appointment of Governor Smith, has announced his candidacy to succeed himself, both for the short and the long terms.

When he was appointed last year Mr. Candler had just been re-elected to the legislature from DeKalb county, but declined to serve to accept service on the commission. He was the author of the present railroad commission law, and is a thorough student of and familiar with the difficult question of railroad governmental regulation.

It is stated that Hon. O. B. Stevens and Hon. Joseph F. Gray are also candidates, the first to succeed himself for the full term beginning December 1, 1911, under the act of 1879, and Mr. Gray for the unexpired portion of Hon. S. G. McLendon's term, which he is now filling by appointment. Messrs. Candler, Stevens and Gray, therefore, are all candidates for different terms.

Mr. Candler's announcement is as follows:

"On April 1, 1909, Hon. Fuller E. Callaway resigned as railroad commissioner and I was appointed as his successor until the general state election in October next, the original term expiring December 1, 1911.

"I am a candidate for the nomination for the unexpired portion of the term I am now filling by appointment and for the full term beginning December 1, 1911, under the act of 1907.

"If nominated and elected to this responsible office I promise to the people of Georgia the best service of which I am capable, and as a guarantee for the future refer to my record of the past year as commissioner, and for eleven years as representative and senator in the general assembly."

WATSON'S POSITION NOT YET ANNOUNCED

Issues of Campaign Will Decide His Stand, He Says.

The position of Hon. Thomas E. Watson in the present state contest has been awaited with a good deal of interest by the friends of the various candidates for governor.

In the latest issue of The Weekly Jeffersonian, Mr. Watson says he has not yet made up his mind; that the issues of the campaign will decide the stand he will take. He intimates that he prefers to give his time this year to national politics and is going out after the scalps of some congressmen.

Negro Youth Drowned.

Cordele, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—The body of Edgar Vaughn, a 14-year-old negro boy, was recovered from Gum creek near Cordele, early this morning by Ernest Myrick, one of a searching party. The boy did not come home last night as usual. He was working near the creek yesterday afternoon, when becoming very warm, it is thought he concluded to take a plunge. The contracted condition of the limbs and muscles was evidence that he had been seized with cramps.

Burial of Brown.

Douglas, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—The body of young Dudley Brown, shot in a difficulty between McGowan and Clarke, near Hazlehurst, was brought here for interment. Brown was raised here and only a short while ago went to Hazelhurst, where his father has employment with the Georgia and Florida railroad.

Madam, Would You Like a Healthy Complexion?

The rosy cheeks, red lips, and bright sparkling eyes of natural healthy beauty is the only kind that charms. Lotions, washes, paints and powders deceive no one. ROSE WILL VOTE FOR GOV. BROWN

Elberton Merchant Fears Change May Hurt Business.

Harry Rose, a prominent merchant of Elberton, Ga., who is now in the city, believes that a change of administration in the state at the present time might work harm to the business interests of the state. In his association with local bankers, Mr. Rose states, he finds that the banks in eastern cities are already beginning to "tighten" in money matters, pending the settlement of the question as to whether or not there will be a new administration in the state after the next election of governor.

"When Judge Hart announced his candidacy," said Mr. Rose, "I determined to support him.

"Since coming here, however, I have talked with a number of the leading business men, and I find that business conditions are being impaired and are becoming stagnant for fear that reform measures may again be advocated in Georgia, should there be a change in the administration.

"There appears to be fears among the business men that should a change be made in the administration it might result in the return of conditions which existed two years ago. The president of an Atlanta bank stated to me today that a trust company of New York had advised its representative here to discontinue making loans. "I am informed that the northern correspondents of some of the banks are inclined to make no further advances to southern banks than they are compelled to.

"In view of these facts, I conclude that it would be unwise to change the present administration and thereby take chances of changing the present prosperous conditions."

INCREASED RATES TO GO INTO EFFECT

Commerce Commission Refuses to Suspend the New Classification.

Washington, June 30.—Announcement was made by the interstate commerce commission today that it would not suspend official classification No. 36, involving over 6,000 items, which was filed to become effective July 1. This declination to act is regarded as a victory for the railroads.

Permission was granted to the railroads operating out of Buffalo, N. Y., to advance their rates on flour and other wheat products 1 cent a hundred pounds to eastern destinations. For nearly a month the commission has been overwhelmed with protests against the proposed new classification of freight, many shippers seeming to entertain the idea that the rearrangement of freight classification would result in largely increased rates. The subject was considered very carefully by the commission, a thorough and comprehensive check being prepared on the entire classification. In the 6,000 items and ratings involved, there are only 58 changes, of which 28 are reductions and 30 advances, the latter including 12 increases in carload weights.

Official classification territory includes all that part of the United States north of the Potomac and Ohio rivers and east of the Mississippi river. It takes in the cities of St. Louis and Chicago.

SHORTHAND STUDENTS WILL CONTEST FOR PRIZE SCHOLARSHIPS

71 ENROLLED FOR FREE SHORTHAND COURSE AT BAGWELL BUSINESS COLLEGE THIS WEEK.

Public Invited to Witness Demonstration and Contest Tonight.

Great enthusiasm is being manifested in the week's free course in Chartier Shorthand given at Bagwell Business College this week. Seventy-one enrolled for the course, most of whom are young men and women just out of school.

Every one is delighted with the simplicity of the Chartier system and the ease with which it can be written and read. Fully 75 per cent have already expressed their intention to finish the course.

INTERESTING CONTEST AND MUSICAL PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT. PUBLIC INVITED.

Four scholarships will be given to those making the best records during the week's free course. A public contest will be held in the assembly hall of Bagwell Business College, 198 Peachtree street, Friday night, July 1, at 8 o'clock, to determine the winners of these prizes. There will be an excellent musical program by the college orchestra and the public is cordially invited to attend.

After only FIVE DAYS' instruction students will write on the blackboard business letters which they have never written before and read them back before the audience.

Every one who is in any way interested in shorthand is urged to attend this demonstration and contest to see for themselves what can be accomplished with this wonderful system after only five days' study.

pass between your home in Union Point and your office in Atlanta, when you go and come each week?"

In response to this question, he said: "While I am privileged, both under the Hepburn rate law, and the order of the railroad commission of Georgia, by being president of the Union Point and White Plains railroad, to the use of an annual, or exchange with other railroads, I do not avail myself of this privilege, lest some person who is ignorant of the law entitling me to this privilege, and the fact of my presidency of the little railroad mentioned, might misjudge me."

The attorney general believes that the requirement that Caesar's wife should be above suspicion, applies with equal force to officers of the state elected to serve the people of the state. He continued:

"When I ride, I prefer to pay my fare. This has cost me during the past year about $300. I prefer to pay my way rather than to make any explanations, or cast suspicion upon my official position."

Suit Against Georgia Railroad.

As casting light upon the attitude of Judge Hart toward the Georgia railroad, he was asked if he had not prosecuted a suit against this road for back taxes, and had not collected a large amount of back tax money claimed to be due by the state.

"Replying to your question as to the amount of back taxes collected from the Georgia railroad through my efforts: As I recall, the amount of state, county and municipal taxes was approximately $325,000. But I do not claim that these taxes were collected through my efforts alone. Associated with me in that litigation were Governor Smith and Mr. Wright, of Augusta."

These were the judge's statements in response to the various insinuations made against him by his opponents.

NO GOOD WORD SPOKEN FOR ALDRICH TARIFF

But Hoosier Representatives Commend President Taft and Senator Beveridge.

Martinsville, Ind., June 30.—Frank C. Tilley, of Terre Haute, was nominated for congressman by the republicans of the Fifth district of Indiana, in convention here today.

The platform adopted declared for a "protective tariff covering the difference in the cost of production here and abroad." It did not comment upon the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, but it praised both the administration of President Taft and the service of Albert J. Beveridge in the senate.

ENTHUSED OVER KIMBERLY MINES

Returning Georgians Tell of Enormous Gold Deposits.

Filled with enthusiasm over the splendid possibilities of the new Kimberly gold mines recently opened in Lander county, Nevada, R. L. Cureton, T. M. Word and W. M. Jones, of Atlanta, and J. H. Stump, of Valdosta, have returned from Nevada, where they went to verify the advertisements of the mine, with a view to making investments.

These gentlemen declare that it is the richest strike of recent years, and that their statements are supported by the expert opinions of veteran miners.

"It is like a fairy story," said Mr. Stump. "The Kimberly was discovered by a group of Swedish sheep herders, and before you could scarcely turn around, the camp was peopled with eager miners. On March 5 the camp was bare. Now a little town, populous and thriving, exists, with streets laid out, hotels erected, restaurants, saloons and houses, while over 120 people are living in tents."

The returning party says that there is now $5,000,000 worth of ore lying on the grounds ready to go through the stamping mill when it is completed.

Respess & Co., who represent the mine in Atlanta, received a telegram Thursday from M. C. Scully, the mining engineer in charge of the Kimberly, stating that they had sunk the big shaft 72 feet, at which depth they made a big strike which assays $6,720. The shaft will be 500 feet deep when completed.

"Of course, we made investments," said one of the quartet. "There is enough there to make many people millionaires."

Everything now is in a course of becoming, but, according to statements, the camp at the Kimberly will be the biggest in Nevada within twelve months' time.

Ogden Succeeds Hertz.

Macon, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—At a special meeting of the directors of the Macon Railway and Light Company this evening, Monroe Ogden was elected secretary and treasurer, to succeed the late J. H. Hertz. President Massee had appointed Mr. Ogden temporarily and the place was made permanent. The new officer has been several years with the electric railway and is an efficient man.

IN AMERICA, WHERE POPULAR GOVERNMENT IS ON TRIAL.

Judge E. H. Callaway recently told the people of Georgia that encroaching crime and increasing inefficiency in administration were slowly placing popular government in America on trial at the bar of civilization.

Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States, told the alumni of Harvard University the other day that he found throughout the old world a vague fear that we in this country were not living up to our ideals. He told his hearers further that unless we set about a vigorous national housecleaning, we should be tacitly admitting to civilization that democratic rule was insufficient to the checking of crime, the equal meting out of law and the correction of abuses.

At practically the same moment Roosevelt was thus solemnly speaking, Judge George C. Holt, of the United States district court of New York, was excoriating the triumph of homicide and lawlessness in this country before the Wisconsin State Bar Association. He spoke of mob violence as having made 100,000 anonymous murderers in this country in the last forty years, most of them in the south. He referred to the encroachments of the Black Hand, the slackly administered penalty of capital punishment, and declared the courts and police seemed powerless, the one to punish, the other to detect, the guilty.

It is enough that disregard for law in the southern states should have laid the section open to an indictment of this nature. In one respect Judge Holt was inaccurate. He should have designated mob violence as a national offense. The last decade has given it, in common with racial antipathy, that important distinction.

It is something more than coincidence that three men of prominence and wide opportunities for observation, one of them a former president of the nation, and each from different sections of the country, should have sounded what is in effect the same note of warning.

The fact is a stimulus to thought and to action, rather than to excitement. It is a stimulus, too, to searching self-analysis on part of the people generally, and especially of the leaders of thought and opinion in whose power it so largely lies to mold or remake sentiment.

In the earlier days of the republic, when the United States first set up a governmental establishment distinct from Great Britain, their wholesale disregard for law, reaching into every phase of administration, was not apparent. Making due allowances for the crudities of frontier days, our civilization was that of an orderly, justice-loving, law-abiding people.

Deeply bedded in our institutions, or our perversion of them, must be those causes that allow murder to increase; that allow technicalities and quibbles, rather than merits and equity, to adjudicate vital issues; that afford encouragement to such lawlessness throughout the nation as pistol-toting symbolizes in Georgia; that seemingly give aid and comfort to mob violence; that apparently put a premium upon the arbitration of pre-eminent state and national issues through prejudice and demagogy, rather than reason and statesmanship.

Mr. Roosevelt speaks truth when he says the abiding sanity of the American people will, and must, find ultimately a remedy for these and allied evils.

In the meantime, to say that popular government is on trial in America, is to make an unadorned statement of fact. Whether in Georgia, in Wisconsin, or in New York, the people pay the penalty.

What will the people do about it?

REMEDIES FROM A PROMINENT LAWYER.

Departing from its usual custom, The Constitution publishes elsewhere today an anonymous communication on the subject of reform in our judicial procedure, a question now being generally discussed throughout the state.

In the letter submitting the article for publication, the writer particularly requests that his name be withheld. In all of the courts the procedure of which he criticises, he has litigation now pending, and he thinks it best for him to remain in the background. So the card is signed "Lawyer."

The Constitution vouches for him, however, as one of the most prominent and universally-respected lawyers in Georgia. His views are synonymous with soundness, and his opinions are the result of an experience that has extended the length and breadth of the law and the courts.

With this introduction, The Constitution submits his diagnosis of the evils today hampering our courts and his remedy for them. A few of his suggestions have already been formulated by a legislative committee. Others he advances will appeal at once to lawyers and laymen familiar with practice in all our courts.

"It is a travesty on our government," he says in his opening paragraphs, "when statistics show that there are more homicides in Georgia than in the whole British Empire, and that so many felons escape their just reward."

He declares that "the administration of law bears about the same relation to the progressive spirit of business as does the medieval ox cart to an electric motor."

The Constitution commends the observations of this trained mind to the general assembly. Some of his suggestions it will have an opportunity to review in the report of its special legislative committee. In a day when sound remedies are needed badly enough, heaven knows! all of those proposed by him are worthy of consideration.

IN BEHALF OF SHORTER COLLEGE.

Adding notability to a year already marked as phenomenal in the annals of higher education in Georgia, the determination of the friends of Shorter College and the business men of Rome to raise $150,000 for the expansion of that institution will make a particularly effective appeal to the state of Georgia.

Shorter is alma mater to hundreds of the mothers and wives of the current generation in Georgia. Its traditions are of among the most venerable, its standards among the highest of those institutions devoted to the higher education of the girls of the state.

The present movement contemplates the raising, ultimately, of a fund of $400,000, which shall be expended in new buildings upon the splendid site recently donated by Capt. J. L. Bass, of Rome.

The business men and people of Rome felt that, while they had contributed at intervals to Shorter, they had never given token of their appreciation of its mission upon a large or sufficient scale.

The opportunity afforded by the liberality of Captain Bass to build a Greater Shorter appealed to them with peculiar force.

In a conference between the organized business men of the city and the trustees of the college, it was decided to raise $150,000 for immediate use.

Within two days of the inauguration of the campaign, $37,000 had been pledged. The work is now being prosecuted with vigor and enthusiasm, and the entire city is roused and interested as it has never been by a crusade of this nature.

The completion of the fund within the time limit is an assured conclusion, since it is the city of Rome underwriting fulfillment.

The Constitution extends its heartiest good wishes to the campaign, with the suggestion that there are many people in Georgia whose name ought to be on this honor roll.

READY TO BOOST GEORGIA.

Organized under the style of the "Greater Georgia Association," representative business men of Georgia are now prepared to concentrate effort and expenditure in a systematic campaign for the development of the state.

Decks were cleared for action when leaders of commercial sentiment from every section of Georgia met recently in Atlanta, effected tion, made arrangements to apply for a charter, elected tion, of Moultrie, president, and J. Pope Brown, the state's name tioned treasurer.
Kunsberg. cost of initiation fees and dues were discussed have opposition short.

and settled tentatively in such manner as assures that when materialized the association will be provided with ample revenues to finance the movement successfully.

If the present plan is executed, the Legislature will be asked to erect in Atlanta a building suitable for a permanent display of the crude and manufactured products of Georgia.

It is possible that the people of Georgia would co-operate in the erection of a building modeled after the proposed hall of the Southern Commercial Congress in Washington, on a smaller scale, of course. The Georgia Federation of Labor is already agitating the establishment of a Labor Temple in Atlanta. These two bodies, whose interests in many respects are identical, might well work in common in a matter aimed at their mutual welfare and that of the state.

Under any circumstances, the organization formulated this week ought to mark an epoch in the state's history. As this paper has so often insisted, the time is ideally auspicious for energetically pushing the development of Georgia.

And, as we understand it, that is the patriotic task to which the organized business men of Georgia now propose to direct their efforts.

Trouble in the lowgrounds, trouble on high—
Peltin' us with hailstones from yonder, in the sky;
Trouble fer to live, an' trouble fer to die,
An' we're all rained out in Georgy!

A Field for Poets.

"The farmers are catching poets wherever they can," says The Adams Enterprise, "and they are plowing them for all they are worth—which isn't a fortune. Letters From People

The Pistol-Toter.

Editor Constitution: Your editorial anent "pistol-toters," in this day's issue of your paper appeals to me in a striking manner. When you say that the White-Fullbright bill "makes hardly a dent" upon the pistol-toting evil you utter a truth which is both potent and incontrovertible.

Making "pistol-toting" a felony in Georgia is in my opinion a mere bagatelle, but it would seem to render the law inert when it is attempted to apply its severity to the gentlemen of country and towns (not the thug or the negro), for if these "gentlemen" who need their brain cells protected—and they usually carry the gun just over the place where their brains are located—are indicted for carrying concealed weapons, it will be more difficult to indict them, on account of influence and kinsmen, etc.; then it will be almost impossible to convict on the trial. Why? Because if it be the sheriff's brother, the clerk's cousin or the ordinary's son-in-law, he can obtain delay, and no court wants to send a "gentleman" to the penitentiary for a crime which is merely mala prohibita.

You say "amend the constitution" of the state in order to meet the dire needs of the case.

In this connection I wish to quote what a recently naturalized citizen (a former subject of King George of Greece) said to me on this subject. He said: "Pass a law that would give the officers—sheriffs and police—the right to search individuals or crowds suspected of having weapons on their persons—the same as we do in Greece—and when found arrest them, taking the weapons from them."

I told him we would have to amend our constitutional provisions in order to give officers that power. He answered: "They raid crap games and search the parties." He intimated that we might amend the fundamental law in order to give the "right of search." WORTH THINKING ABOUT!

A. T. SMITH.

Atlanta, Ga., June 30, 1910.

Wow! What Made Atlanta.

(From The Montgomery Times.)

Look at Atlanta. How it has grown What made it? Location? No. Soil? No. Big brains and extensive grey matter? No. The secret was cooperation among the people; cooperation with civic pride at the bottom of it, and not self pride. All newcomers were received as brethren and given a lifting hand, not a foot.

Gossip at the Capitol

The hearing before the railroad commission on the application of carriers to amend general order No. 14 has been indefinitely postponed at the suggestion of the carriers themselves.

This order, made December 23, 1909, provides that all rates then in effect which were not higher than the maximum rates prescribed by the commission, were adopted as the rates of the commission. All services, facilities and priveleges granted by carriers to shippers were established as requirements of the commission. Therefore, no changes could be made in rates or service without application and hearing and consent of the commission being first obtained. This order remains in effect.

Comptroller General Wright yesterday turned into the state treasury the sum of $12,131 as proceeds from the insurance tax. He estimates that the tax on premiums will yield $160,000.

The Maryland Casualty Company yesterday made deposit of $25,000 with the state treasurer for the privilege of doing business in Georgia, as is required by law.

Judge John W. Lindsay has announced his candidacy for the position of pension commissioner to succeed himself and has paid his entrance fee of $60.

Reid Not a Candidate.

Representative C. S. Reid, of Campbell, was not an applicant for appointment to the position of attorney general, made vacant by the resignation of Attorney General Hart, nor will he be a candidate for that office in the general election.

Regarding the report that he might be an applicant for the place, Mr. Reid said:

"The rumor that I might be an applicant for the position of attorney general, recently published in the city papers, was without foundation. The constitution prohibits a member of the general assembly from receiving any appointment at the hands of the governor during the time for which he was elected. Were a meber to resign he could not be appointed before the expiration of the term he was serving."

Mr. Reid says the suggestion of his name was without his knowledge, and was doubtless made through the kindness of some friend who had for the moment forgotten this provision of the state constitution.

AUGUSTA WALL.

COURT REFORMS E STATE'S LEGAL EVIL

Editor Constitution: Your editorials of recent dates relative to the existing evils and remedies to correct the lax and slow administration of law are timely, and should receive the hearty indorsement of the peaceful, law-abiding citizens of Georgia, who have long been the unwilling witnesses of the uncertainty of punishment, and the apparently unnecessary delay in the trial of both criminal and civil cases.

It is a travesty on our government, when statistics show that there are more homicides in Georgia than in the whole British empire, and that so many felons escape their just reward, and that the few who are punished between the commission of their offense and the execution of the sentence are so long immune from servitude or execution that one of the three reasons for conviction, that of deterring others from the commission of similar offenses, is practically destroyed. It is agreed by all that evils exist, and the main question is, Wherein lies the remedy, and can it be reached?

While it may be admitted that so long as human nature is imperfect that both human laws and their administration will likewise be imperfect, yet that many rules, methods of practice and procedure can be made more consistent with the spirit of progress, without destroying or removing any right that parties litigant have to a fair and impartial trial, is a conceded fact by anyone conversant at all with court trials.

There is much substantive law that might be amended to advantage, but one of the most pressing needs of relief is a reformation of the methods of court practice and procedure. The administration of law bears about the same relation to the progressive spirit of business as does the medieval ox-cart to an electric motor. If reforms in the practice and plan of court procedure are delayed until there is any considerable unanimity among the legal profession as to what should be done, the world will likely go up in smoke before that day, when all courts will be of no avail. The business interests of Georgia should get back of a movement to adopt and enforce remedies not to destroy, but to hasten the administration of law, and to insure a speedy, fair and impartial trial, and eliminate the cumbersome system of courts, and delays in the trial of cases.

The legislative committee of the house and senate has just reported on the question of rearrangements of court circuits. In their report they recommend that all city courts be abolished, and that instead each county be provided with four terms of the superior courts each year. Both of these provisions are wise, and should be enacted into law. As a further suggestion of remedial legislation, the following should be provided by law:

1. Abolish All City Courts.—There are seventy-seven city courts in Georgia. All of them created under different acts of the legislature. Each of them differs from the other, and many in vital respects, so far as practice and procedure is concerned. A large part of the time and work of the appellate court is consumed in deciding questions involving a construction of these various local acts, creating city courts, and construing questions of jurisdiction under these several acts. The superior court practice is very well settled under statute and decisions, and being a court of general jurisdiction, in it there can be uniformity of practice and procedure.

2. Abolish the Court of Appeals—There is no reason for two courts of last resort, and with different jurisdiction, requiring different sets of reports. It is just as reasonable to conclude that "a man can have two masters" as that there can be two courts of last resort to pass on the same questions, depending on which kind of trial court first had jurisdiction. Besides there is less likelihood of a conflict in decision, if all of the cases appealed are finally passed on by one court, a branch of one court, with supervisory powers and duties lodged in a chief justice. The author of this article in no sense intends to criticise either the work or the ability of the present members of the court of appeals. They are able and efficient, hard-working and conscientious judges.

3. Increase the Supreme Court to Ten Members.—Let this court be divided into three divisions, who shall hear and determine cases, in the order that the cases reach the court, without any terms, each division sitting separately, and at the same time, if necessary; and let the chief justice review the cases before they are finally determined, and handed down as law, to prevent any conflict arising in the decisions. The three members of the court of appeals might be transferred to this court. It would be a good selection.

4. Provide for Quarterly Terms of the Superior Courts in Each County.—Let the grand jury convene every six months, and oftener, if so ordered by a judge of the superior court. All felony cases can be tried, then, in three months. If a person is lodged in jail, without bond, his case can be readily tried, and determined. If convicted, three months of his term of service will be saved to him, and the county saved much of the cost of jail fees, and expenses of keeping the prisoner. All civil cases could then be tried within half the time.

5. Where Necessary, Provide for Two Judges in Each Superior Court Circuit.—The cost of seventy-seven judges of city courts eliminated will pay the salaries of twenty-seven more superior court judges. Thus, by this plan, there would be seventy-seven fewer judges of city courts, with an increase of twenty-seven superior court judges. Let these judges rotate in their respective circuits, which will be helpful to all concerned.

The benefits of the above plan are many, a lengthy discussion of which time and space now forbid. If it were adopted, we would have uniformity of practice; less delay in trials; less work for appellate courts; fewer books for lawyers to buy, and for the state to print. The litigant with a just cause could have his case tried in half the time. This system would be less expensive to the state and the several counties. The supreme court would take up cases in the order that they reached that court, regardless of term time, for it would always be open.

The author of this has only made an outline, the details of which could easily be supplied, when we would have a system of practice and procedure more in harmony with the spirit of the times, and with less impediments to a fair, speedy and impartial enforcement of law. LAWYER.

GEORGIA BOYS LEAVE FOR CAMP CHEROKEE

Eleven Georgia boys left yesterday afternoon for Camp Cherokee, which is situated in the Smoky mountains of North Carolina.

Kenneth McRae, the son of Dr. Floyd McRae, of this city, is an associate at the camp this year, and has secured a representative list of Georgia boys, seven of whom are from Atlanta. The Georgia boys are Arthur Bell, James DuBose, John McRae, Henry Collier, Sidney and John Whittier and Howell Foreman all of whom are from this city; James Budd and T. R. Kendall, from Macon, and "Doc" Boyd, from Savannah.

COOK FATALLY BURNED; POURED OIL IN STOVE

Albany, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—When Annie Strickland, the negro cook at the home of Charles Buckner, on Third street, poured kerosene into the stove this morning to make the wet wood burn, the can exploded with a loud report, saturating the girl's clothing with flaming oil.

She ran screaming into the street, where every vestige of clothing was burned from her body. There was not an unburned piece of flesh from her ankles to the top of her head. The explosion set the kitchen on fire, but the flames were extinguished by the firemen. The cook will die.

OATS ARE ROTTING IN SUMTER COUNTY

Americus, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—Fifty thousand bushels of oats stacked in open fields here are ruining because of continued rains, and may be a total loss.

The crop harvested in May, more than a quarter of a million bushels in Sumter county, was the greatest ever produced here; but little more than half the crop was saved. Rain has fallen every day during the current month; the farmers are unable to house the oat crop, and the loss will be enormous.

Cotton fields are vast stretches of green grass, and the crop prospect in south Georgia the poorest ever known on July 1.

THEODORE H. PRICE WILL NOT BE TRIED

New York, June 30.—On motion of United States District Attorney Wise, under instruction from Attorney General Wickersham, indictments found in 1908 against Theodore H. Price, the cotton operator; Moses Haas, Frederick A. Peckham and Edwin S. Holmes, Jr., for conspiracy in connection with the cotton export leak, were today quashed by Judge Hand, in the United States circuit court.

Holmes, Haas and Peckham pleaded guilty to similar indictments in Washington this week, and Holmes and Peckham paid fines of $5,000 each, and Haas one of $600. The Washington indictment against Price was annulled.

Smith Meeting in Macon.

Macon, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—Arrangements have been made by the friends of former Governor Hoke Smith to organize a club in Macon on the evening of July 7. At this meeting all the supporters will be urged to take part in the effort to carry the community.

WORK TO BE PUSHED ON GATINS HOTEL

Word has been received from New York that George A. Fuller & Co., contractors, will begin the erection of the new half-million-dollar hotel at Peachtree street and Ponce de Leon avenue, a week from next Monday and that it wil be pushed as rapidly as possible to completion. The excavations have been finished and everything is in readiness for laying the foundations.

The new hotel is being built for Joseph Gatins, of New York, formerly of Atlanta, and will be known as the "Georgian Terrace." The selection of a name is that of Mr. Gatins.

TO PLAY NATIONAL AIRS AT WESLEY MEMORIAL

Next Sunday, July 3, will be a great musical day at Wesley Memorial church. The orchestra is composed of twenty pieces, and will play, not only the best of classical music, but also the natoinal airs, it being the Sunday nearest the Fourth of July.

The program for Sunday, July 3, includes:

"The Chamber of Commerce (Kretchunar), "Sousa Swing" (Brown), "The Tourist" (Engle), "Queen of the Surf" (Klohr), all marches; "Melody of Love" (Englemann); anthem, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" (Stanage); march, "National Anthem" (Bagley); "La Morsaria" (Morse); "The Drummer Boy of '76" (Ellis); "Simple Aven" (Thome); "Praise Ye the Father" (Gounod); "Old Glory, We Love Thee," and the national airs. Charles Stedman Stanage, director.

NEW BILL TO STRENGTHEN THE PROHIBITION LAW

As a further bulwark for the prohibition law Representative Smith, of Gilmer, would prohibit the sale, the giving away or the keeping on hand of any corn malt, barley malt or rye malt in the state of Georgia.

Mr. Smith has a bill to that effect, which he will probably introduce in the house Friday.

Mr. Smith states that the malt in question, while containing no alcohol, has a large sale in many counties in the state and is used in the manufacture of whisky. Should his bill pass, he says, it will increase the difficulty of operating "blind tigers."

LAGRANGE DISTRICT CONFERENCE ADJOURNS

West Point, Ga., June 30.—The LaGrange District Conference adjourned this afternoon. Hogansville was selected as the next meeting place. Delegates elected to North Georgia Conference were: H. W. Miller, West Point; S. E. Leigh, Grantville; L. P. Smith, Greenville; H. J. Callahan, Whitesville. Nearly 100 delegates were in attendance.

"Cops" Accused of Stealing.

St. Louis, June 30.—One police lieutenant, six sergeants, a detective and 15 patrolmen were charged with pilfering from the Police Relief Association fund by the board of police commissioners today. Eleven of the men were suspended in March, pending charges which were served today. The board alleged irregularities in connection with the benefits held at an amusement park.

CITY NEWS

William Leopold Eentertained.—William H. Leopold, of Savannah, great keeper of seal and records of the Knights of Pythias, returned to Savannah last night after a pleasant visit to Atlanta. During his stay in Atlanta he was banquetted by Georgia lodge, No. 153, and the affair was one of the most delightful Georgia lodge has ever given.

Christian Endeavor Meeting.—An important meeting of the Atlanta local union of Christian Endeavor will be held at 8 o'oclock tonight at the First Christian church. An attractive program has been arranged, and every society in the union is requested to attend. Rev. E. D. Brownlee, pastor of the Rock Spring Presbyteiran church, is the president.

Federation Leader Here.—D. P. O'Conner, of Augusta, a prominent member of the Federation of Labor of that city and who was elected alternate delegate from the Georgia Federation a few weeks ago in session at Savannah to the American Federation of Labor, is in the city as one of a committee to appear before a committee of the Georgia legislature.

Strange Beasts for Col. Rosenthal.—Two strange animals, which look like 'possums with the exception that they have rabbit-like heads and tails, were yesterday delivered to Colonel Ben Rosenthal in honor of his sixty-second birthday. Although Mr. Rosenthal is an authority on animals, having recently presented twelve Rhesus monkeys to the Grant park zoo, he cannot identify this pair. He will probably give them also to the zoo.

Charged He Wrote Obscene Letters.—J. E. Pickering was bound over to the federal grand jury yesterday by United States Commissioner Carter Colquitt in the sume of $500 for sending obscene matter through the mails. Pickering was arrested immediately after receiving from the general delivery clerk at the postoffice a letted addressed to J. E. Clark. Some days ago a letter received by an Atlanta lady, whose name was not brought out in the inquiry, was turned over to the postoffice inspector. The letter contained language outlawed by the postal laws and an inspector detailed on the case was in waiting for the writer when he called for his mail yesterday morning. The accused succeeded in making bond without any trouble.

DELEGATES ARE NAMED BY FRATERNAL UNION

Newman Lasser, of Atlanta, Makes the Address of Welcome.

The district convention of the Fraternal Union of America, which has been in session in the Piedmont assembly hall, has adjourned, and the delegates left last night for their homes. Shepard Bryan, of Atlanta, called the convention to order, while Newman Lasser, of Atlanta, delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by A. M. Word, of Rome, and W. O. McDonald, of Charleston. Shepard Bryan, of Atlanta; W. O. McDonald, of Charleston, and William H. Leopold, of Savannah, were elected as supreme representatives, with J. T. Pearson, of Anderson, S. C.; R. W. Ellis, of Cuthbert, Ga., and J. H. McFadden, of Rock Hill, S. C., as alternates. The supreme lodge will meet in Denver.

FARM PRODUCTS BEFORE HOUSE

Vote Today to Exempt Them From Taxation.

House Disagrees to Unfavorable Report of Committee, But the Vote Does Not Lend Much Encouragement to the Friends of the Measure.

THURSDAY IN THE HOUSE.

Disagreed to the report of the committee which was unfavorable to the passage of the bill exempting farm products from taxation.

Conferred all the authority of a court of law upon the committee investigating charges of graft against Lee Barron, keeper of public buildings and grounds.

Heard the report of the special committee which investigated charges that the sanitarium for the insane is being improperly conducted.

Heard the message from the governor regarding the finances of the state.

When the house of representatives yeserday disagreed to the report of the committee which was unfavorable to the passage of the bill, it forecasted the probable defeat of the measure amending the constitution so as to permit farm products to be exempted from taxation.

The house disagreed to the report of the committee by the vote of 91 to 56, but since it requires a two-thirds majority, or 123 votes, to pass the bill, which is a constitutional amendment, it is very evident that the advocates of the measure will have to bestir themselves to secure its passage.

The vote on the committee report was taken shortly before the hour of adjournment at 1 o'clock, and seeing that his bill would be defeated if it came to a vote, Mr. Alexander, of DeKalb, one of the authors, moved that the house adjourn.

Mr. Hall, of Bibb, who opposed the bill, called for the ayes and noes on the motion to adjourn and the call was sustained. The motion to adjourn was adopted by the vote of 82 to 70.

The Vote to Be Taken.

Since the bill was not disposed of Thursday, it will come up for a vote Friday morning under the head of unfinished business and will be finally disposed of.

The bill provides that farm products shall be exempted from taxation for a period of twelve months after production, and is designed to aid the producer of cotton so that he may hold his crop for a higher price without the necessity of marketing it in order to avoid the tax. It was introduced by Messrs. Alexander, of DeKalb, and Johnson, of Bartow, and was placed on its passage Wednesday.

The argument for and against the measure Thursday was a repetition and enlargement of the argument Wednesday. The supporters contended that it would benefit the farmer by allowing him to hold his cotton for a higher price, and the opponents urged that it would benefit the landholder, not the producer, and that it was class legislation and granting of special privileges.

Advocates and Opponents.

Mr. Millikin of Wayne, Mr. White of Screven, Mr. Hill of Monroe and Mr. McConnell of Gwinnett, spoke in favor of the bill.

Mr. Henderson of Irwin, Mr. Heard of Dooly, Mr. Persons of Monroe, and Mr. Atkinson of Morgan, spoke against its passage.

The opponents of the bill confidently predict its defeat when it comes to a vote Friday.

The message which Governor Brown submitted Thursday regarding the condition of the treasury, was read to the house by Reading Clerk D. F. McClatchey.

Moss Makes Disclaimer.

Arising to a question of personal privilege, Mr. Moss, of Cobb, Thursday secured the floor of the house and disclaimed any intention of making a political move when he introduced in the house several days ago a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee to ask Governor Brown for his reasons for refusing to purchase the terminal property for the state road at Chattanooga.

Mr. Moss asked Wednesday that his resolution be taken up for consideration and Mr. Hall, of Bibb, objected, which prevented its consideration.

"It may be that the chief executive has good and sufficient reasons for not purchasing the property," stated Mr. Moss. "If he has good reasons for not making the purchase it is his duty to let us know what they are, and on the contrary, if he has acted arbitrarily in the matter, we should also be acquainted with that fact."

The house adopted a resolution offered by Mr. Anderson, of Chatham, conferring all the powers of a court upon the committee on public property which is investigating charges of graft preferred against Lee Barron, keeper of public buildings and grounds.

COLUMBUS COUNCIL TO ELECT OFFICERS

Columbus, Ga., June 30.—(Special.)—The biennial election of officers for the city of Columbus will take place next Wednesday at the monthly meeting of city council, and, as there are several interesting contests, the local political waters have been greatly stirred during the past few days.

For city attorney, Hon. T. T. Miller, the incumbent, and Hon. H. C. McCutchen are candidates.

Police Commissioner J. B. Key is a candidate for reelection, and opposing him is James M. Crawford.

Superintendent of Public Works W. C. Campbell has opposition in the person of Edward E. Massey, who has been connected with the public works department of the city for a good many years. The name of J. R. Hall, a well-known engineer, has been mentioned in connection with the office, but Mr. Hall has made no canvass.

J. P. Layfield is standing for reelection for sanitary inspector, and the name of W. H. Gray has been mentioned as a possible opponent. R. Kunsberg, clerk of the market, may have opposition in the person of R. E. Short.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR THE JUDGES

$1,000 Increase for the Court of Appeals.

Senate Adopts Amendment by Author to Anti-Prize Fight Bill and Reconsiders Vote by Which Bill to Repeal Dog Tax Was Killed.

THE DAY IN THE SENATE.

Passed bill increasing salaries of judges court of appeals to $5,000.

Reconsidered vote by which Mathews' anti-prize fight bill was adopted on Wednesday and readopted it with an amendment by the author.

Passed bill to provide for board of commissioners of roads and revenue for Clayton county.

Reconsidered vote by which bill to repeal the dog tax was killed.

Passed Slaton bill relative to precedure in ordinary applications for new trials.

Received report of legislative committee appointed to investigate state sanitarium.

The senate by an overwhelming majority yesterday passed the bill increasing from $4,000 to $5,000 the salaries of judges of the court of appeals.

The bill was introduced in the house by Messrs. Vinson, of Baldwin; Anderson, of Chatham; Barksdale, of Wilkes, and Persons, of Monroe.

Speeches were made in defense of the measure in the senate by Messrs. Burwell, of the twentieth; Slater, of the first; Akin, of the fourth, and Mathews, of the twenty-third. Those who spoke against the bill were Messrs. Longley and Griffith. Mr. Rutherford asked leading questions which indicated a desire to defeat the bill.

Vote on the Increase.

On the call for the ayes and nays the vote was as follows:

Ayes—Akin, Burwell, Blackwell, Burch, Calloway of the twenty-ninth, Calhoun, Cates, Conley, Day, Gordy, Harrell, Johnson, King, Mays, Morris, Mathews, McDowell, McWilliams, McClure, Price, Slater, Sellers, Stevens, Thompson, Ward and Wood—26.

Nays—Calloway of the tenth, Griffith, Harben, Irwin, Kemp, Longley, McLean, McCurry, McCollum, Pitts, Rutherford, Rudicil and Womble—14.

Not Voting—Bowen, Jackson, Patterson—3.

Dog Tax Reconsidered.

When the senate met Mr. Day was successful in having the senate reconsider the vote by which it had failed to approve the bill striking from the general tax the tax on dogs.

Mr. Mathews moved to reconsider the bill outlawing prize fights in Georgia in order to permit him to offer an amendment. The senate agreed to this. The amendment defines prize fights to be any contest, with or without gloves, in which violent blows are struck by the contestants, and to see which contest gate receipts are charged and the contestants receive a money prize or other things of value.

The bill was opposed by Mr. Irwin, who said there were already laws on the statute books covering such contests. He thought the bill should not apply to contests between amateurs.

"The tendency of prize fighting is brutalizing," said Mr. Mathews. "It is contrary to the genius of our civilization. Prize fights are usually contests between ruffians. We ought to prohibit any contest between such animals to take place in our state."

Mr. Mathews said the amendment met his approval. The amendment was adopted and the bill passed by a vote of 28 to 1.

A bill by Mr. Akin providing for promoting the public health by ditching, leveling and draining swamp lands in the state, was read the first time.

A privileged resolution was introduced providing that when the senate adjourn on Friday it stand adjourned until Tuesday, July 5.

The British Budget.

London, June 30.—Chancellor David Lloyd-George had no novelties to offer in introducing the budget of 1910-11 in the house of commons today. He took an optimistic view of the future despite he fact that he had to find the revenue to meet an estimated expenditure of within £1,000,000 of the £200,000,000 mark, or, to be exact, £198,930,000. The cancellor figured a total revenue of £199,791,000, leaving a surplus of £861,000.

Two Personal, Important Questions—

Have YOU been fair to this great man?

Peary Proves It!

If you have a grain of doubt, if you are not fully informed, if you have supported any other claimant for North Pole honors, if you have become tired of the whole subject, BE FAIR to Commander Peary and read the July instalment of "Peary's Own Story" which PROVES HE GOT THERE! You will be thrilled by the narrative—the awful sledge journey—crossing "leads" on ice rafts—Borup's rescue of the dog team—the separation of the ice in the middle of Peary's camp—the hardships, the mental torture, and the magnificent courage of the expedition—and all the rest. And you will be convinced—you will know the truth, which is what you want as a fair and square American.

Are YOU reading this fascinating play?

"Chantecler"—In English!

The world is talking about it, the world wants to read It. All America is reading it—your friends, your neighbors, everybody around you, and you can read it in English in "HAMPTON'S" only. This great drama, with its characters of birds and fowls—its brilliant wit—its delightful slang—is the most fascinating piece of writing that has appeared for decades. How human nature is parodied—so kindly yet so truthfully! No work of fiction ever contained a love story like that of "Chantecler" and his hen pheasant. For youths, maidens or grown-ups, this wonderful play by Edmond Rostand has intense delight, truest humor, wise counsel, the secrets of life.

"Speaking of Widows and Orphans"

The most dramatic chapter in Charles Edward Russell's series on the Central Pacific Millionaire Mill. It is the story of the settlers who lost their lives in their contest with the railroad power, and contains the pitiful recital on the witness stand of Mrs. Colton, the widow of Huntington's friend, who was robbed of her husband's millions.

REPORT IS MADE ON SANITARIUM

Committee Gives Praise to the Officials.

The special legislative committee appointed to investigate conditions at the state sanitarium, made its report to the two houses yesterday, in the course of which report it is set forth that the charges were without foundation and "a vile injustice to the management of the sanitarium."

Senator McLean, chairman of the investigating committee, submitted the report in the senate, and Representative Henderson, vice chairman of the committee, made the report to the house.

The report says the officials of the sanitarium are honest, capable, and efficient; that they are making the best showing possible with the funds placed at their disposal by the state; that the white ward is beautifully kept, and the negro ward is overcrowded, that it is beyond human power to keep it in fit condition for habitation.

Miserly in Appropriation.

"To say that the Georgia legislature has been miserly in its appropriations is putting it mildly," says the report. But it adds that the main trouble is too little money and too many patients.

As to the food, the report says it is good. But being cooked by steam and in the large quantities necessary to feed 3,000 people, it finally becomes unpalatable to those who are forced to subsist upon it for months and years. The committee thinks a larger variety of food and a more liberal allowance is desirable.

As to the treatment of inmates, the committee reports it made searching investigation. A large number of inmates of the institution, former inmates and employees were examined. They discovered no instance of cruel treatment, and only rare instances of unkind treatment, but that the parties are invariably treated with consideration, gentleness and kindness.

Praise for Officials.

Inmates are in the care of "noble hearted gentlemen, who do not and will not permit any harshness towards these unforunates," says the report.

The report says many people are sent to the sanitarium who have no business there; such as aged paupers, feeble-minded children, and sane epileptics

After praising the physicians as "capable men, alive, alert and efficient," and the male attendants as honest and capable, the report says, "in all our investigation not a murmur or whisper of dissatisfaction came against the female attendants." Shortening of the hours of labor of the attendants, is recommended. A nurses' hall is also suggested. A building for colored patients, and a tuberculosis hospital, and a water reservoir are suggested as needed improvements.

Should Have Separate Home.

It is suggested that patients should have the right to send out and receive one day in each week, mail, without having it inspected by officials of the institution.

The report concludes:

"It is a shame that the sane epileptics are committed to the State Sanitarium, and the state of Georgia should speedily make a home for these people, for to place a human who is not insane, for a term of life in an insane asylum, is the most horrible affliction that can come to man. A place for betterment and not a horrible prison should be provided for them. The feeble-minded, especially the young children, should be better provided for, and we believe that these classes, the epileptics and feeble-minded, should be provided for at place separate and distinct from the asylum of the insane."

LEGAL PROCEDURE MAY BE HASTEN

Senate Unanimously Passes Bill of Senator Slaton.

The bill of Senator Slaton, of the thirty-fifth, to expedite legal procedure and hasten the decision of applications for new trials, was adopted by the senate yesterday by a vote of 46 to nought.

"Swift justice is as essential at times as justice itself," Mr. Slaton said and quoted Herbert Spencer in regard to the injustice often wrought by the technicalities of legal procedure. "When these technicalities are pleaded to as a means to defeat justice, he continued, "it results in a disregard of legal procedure and a distrust of the courts on part of the people, and the resulting injury is immeasureable and almost irreparable."

The substitute offered by the committee for the bill of Senator Slaton provides, in section 1, that applications for a new trial except in extraordinary cases, must be made within five days from the judgment or decree entered upon the verdict. The application may be amended by the addition of other grounds at any time prior to the trial. The motion for a new trial shall be approved when filed by the trial judge. The motion may be filed, heard, decided and returned during vacation.

Motions for new trial shall be passed upon the evidence, the charge of the jury and record as it stood at the time of trial before the jury. If the judge desires, or there is conflict in any part of the testimony, the court shall have the right to order the production of any documentary evidence introduced at the trial, or to have the stenographer's notes read.

All motions for new trials shall be heard and determined by the judge as possible, within thirty days, and on or before the date set for the hearing the court may hear the motion, continue it, or dismiss it.

The judge is required to specify the ground or grounds on which a new trial is granted.

The party desiring to appeal from the decision of the court shall, within thirty days from the granting or refusal of the ruling of said motion, prepare and present a condensed brief of the material portions of the oral and documentary evidence necessary to a consideration of the alleged errors to be relied upon in the supreme court. Documentary evidence shall not be set out in the brief except by reference to the same. The stenographer's notes may be introduced in narrative form. The evidence is to be shortened as much as possible. No evidence is to be included in the brief such as is necessary to a consideration of the alleged error.

A bill of exceptions to the refusal or denial of a motion for new trial shall be tendered to the trial judge within twenty (20) days from the date of the judgment approving the brief of evidence.

COTTON CROP INJURED.

Continued Rains in Alabama Bring Losses.

Montgomery, Ala., June 30.—Great danger to the cotton crop from the continued rains is announced today by Commissioner of Agriculture Wilkinson. With the crop late anyway, the water is leaching out the fertilizers and the stalk is turning yellow.

"The low lands are in bad shape already," says the commissioner, "and any more of it is going to bring enormous losses."

Cause of Bad Temper

SOCIETY

MRS. JULIETTE BROWN PARMALEE,
Who Will Be Heard in a Recital Tonight at the Young Men's Christian Association.

MRS. R. J. LOWRY APPOINTED HEAD OF GEORGIA COMMITTEE

Mrs. Herbert Hall, chairman of the woman's department of the Appalachian Exposition, has appointed Mrs. Robert J. Lowry chairman of a committee from Georgia to cooperate with the women of Tennessee in making the exposition a success.

Miss L. Graham Crozier, of Knoxville, who arrived in the city yesterday morning, brought to Mrs. Lowry the formal appointment and it is the universal wish of the women of Tennessee and Georgia that she will accept.

Than Mrs. Lowry there is no woman in the south more prominent and popular socially; she has had a broad experience in the organized effort of women along various lines. She was an officer of the woman's board of the Cotton States and International Exposition. She is a prominent member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and of the woman's movement, especially along lines educational and patriotic. She has been practically identified with all of Atlanta's charitable movements. Mrs. Lowry is particularly interested in the conservation movement as it relates to forestry and will be an inspiring assistant on the committee to be organized under that head.

Miss L. Graham Crozier, who is in the city representing Mrs. Herbert Hall, the president of the woman's department of the Appalachian Exposition to hold in Knoxville, Tenn., from the 12th of September to the 12th of October, will be in her rooms in the Piedmont at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 4 in the afternoon to see all who may wish to confer with her on any feature of the exposition.

Miss Ballard to Entertain.

Miss Nell Ballard will entertain at cards this morning in honor of Miss Vance, of Dalton, and Miss Betts, of Chattanooga. Her guests will include: Miss Eva Wurm, Miss Alberta Williams, Miss Irene Champion, Miss Marjorie Champion, Miss Amelia Faulkins, Miss Virginia Lovette, Miss [illegible]ne Go[illegible] and Miss [illegible] Helm[illegible]

To Miss Benedict.

Miss Harriett Benedict will be the [illegible]est of honor at a box party which [illegible]iss Virginia Bowman will give at the [illegible]ric next Tuesday. Invited to meet [illegible]ss Benedict are Misses Eula Jack[illegible], Agnes Gray, Margaret Grant, Van [illegible]lding, Katherine DuBose, Adgate [illegible]is, Isabel Robinson, Rosalie Davis, [illegible]nie Ansley, Elizabeth Boyd.

Miss White's Tea.

[illegible]iss Sina White will give a tea the [illegible]rnoon of June the 6 in compliment [illegible]er guests, Miss Olive Mathews, Gussie O'Neal, of Winder, Ga., and Suzette Joerge, of Columbus, Ga. [illegible]rosebud set in society will be in[illegible]d on the list of invitations.

Parish-West.

[illegible]e of the most interesting of the summer weddings will be that of Mamie Parish and Mr. Randolph Berrien West, which will take place on the evening of August 2 at the bride's home in West End.

Her great-uncle, Rev. Howard Crumley, will perform the ceremony, and the attendants will be: Miss Mary Evans, of Waynesboro, maid of honor; Miss Carrie Parish and Miss Esther Holleyman, bridesmaids; Mr. Davant Berrien, best man; Mr. Arthur Evans, of Waynesboro, and Mr. Howard Parish, groomsmen; Misses Teddy and Sarah Parish, Miss Annie Marie Pattillo and Master Francis Pattillo, ribbon-bearers.

A reception of several hundred guests will be held and Mr. West and his bride will go north on their wedding trip.

while the groom is the cashier of the Bank of Leesburg. Miss Mary Kenyon, of Lumpkin, was organist. Rev. J. A. Ivey performed the ceremony. The happy couple left on the noon train for a bridal tour of northern points.

Peeples-Stine.

Mrs. Hannah Young Peeples, of Valdosta, has issued cards announcing the marriage of her daughter, Lawson Allene, to Mr. Henry Lucien Stine on Wednesday, June 29, in Atlanta. Mr. and Mrs. Stine will be at home after July 10 at the Plaza, New York city.

To Miss Tomlinson.

Miss Bland Tomlinson, of Birmingham, who is being delightfully entertained as the guest of Miss Josephine Mobley, will remain until Monday, and in her honor Miss Margaret Trayler will entertain today at luncheon.

Saturday afternoon Miss Margaret Moore will give a tennis party at East Lake, and last night Miss Anita Stewart entertained for Miss Tomlinson.

At East Lake.

Mrs. Lowry Arnold entertained delightfully at bridge yesterday at her home at East Lake, the twenty-two guests including her neighbors of this attractive colony.

Mrs. Valdemar Gude, Mrs. H. Clay Moore and Mrs. F. G. Byrd won the prizes.

Miss Everhardt Honored.

Miss Elfrida Everhardt, one of the assistant librarians at the Carnegie library, has gone to Mackinaw Island to attend a meeting of the American Library Association. She has been invited to take part in the program. A large delegation from the south will attend the national meeting this year.

To Mrs. Foster.

Mrs. Robert Jones will entertain at bridge this morning at her home at East Lake in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Floyd Foster, of Athens.

To Misses Collier.

Misses Louise and Eleanor Collier were guests of honor at the tea given yesterday afternoon by their sister, Mrs. Julian Harris, at her home in West End.

Seventy-five guests were assembled to meet them, and a very delightful hospitality was expressed.

Mrs. Harris wore a graceful gown of white embroidered mull and lace, and the Misses Collier wore dainty gowns of mull embroidery.

Misses Jennie and Cornelia Pickett served punch, and others assisting in entertainment were Misses Nora Belle Rosser, Adeline Thomas, Agnes Gray, Laura Cole and Frances Peck.

An Interesting Occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Scott entertained at their hospitable home on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Annabelle Wood, who is spending some time in Atlanta after two years' music study in New York.

Miss Wood played a delightfully varied program—a "Pastorole and Capriccio," by Scariotti; "Alceste," by Gulck, transcribed by Saint Saens; "Marche a la Surque," by Beethoven. Other charming selections were the andante from the E minor sonata of Grieg; "Paupin Valsonte" and Marche Mignonne," by Poldieu; a Chopin Etude and "Claia de Lune," by Debussy.

Miss Wood has a finely-developed technique, fully equal to the strong demands upon it, an intelligent conception and interpretation.

To Miss Dockstadder.

Twenty-four young women were the guests of Miss Bertha Wright when she entertained yesterday morning at bridge in compliment to Miss Martha Rogers' guest, Miss Dockstadder, of New York.

Miss Wright and her mother, Mrs. James T. Wright, wore becoming mull and lace gowns.

Today We're Going to Clean Out Our Stock of Combination Garments. Also Some of Corset Shelves. You'll Profit by the Bargains We'll Have

Today, rain or shine, we're going housecleaning in the Muslin Underwear.

We'll confine our efforts principally to the shelves where the combination garments, corsetical accessories and some corsets repose. We're going to get rid of as many of these things as we can and we need your assistance in the process.

First of all, the Combinations are good. In point of material, trimmings, style and workmanship, they're right--the kind of garments the particular woman cares to possess.

The Combination is the logical undergarment to wear with present style frocks. It gives you two or three garments in one, does away with all unnecessary fullness and bulk and being joined at the waistline, is eminently desirable for wear under lingerie frocks that have lace or very thin belts.

There'll be all styles of Combinations today. Plain models simply trimmed, or handsome garments with elaborate decoration of lace, embroidery and ribbon.

But no matter what style you select, you'll get exceptionally good lingerie at remarkably low prices. We simply have too many of these. That's why we've markt them so very cheap for today.

An odd lot of very fine Combinations, broken sizes, beautifully made of fine soft nainsook and crossbar muslin and trimmed with good laces and embroideries, beadings and ribbons. Some combination of corset cover and Princess or plain drawers, some of corset cover and Princess or plain skirt.

$5 and $6 Combinations $2.49

$3 and $3.50 Combinations $1.89

$2, $2.50 and $2.75 Combinations $1.19

A complete line of Combinations, all sizes, beautiful material, Val. and Swiss embroidery trimmings, belt of beading and ribbon, drawers or skirt trimmed with lace-edged lawn flounce. These Combinations we sell regularly for $2.50. Today $1.19

Combinations of crossbar muslin or nainsook, lace trimmed, $1.50 values, today 98c

Combinations of excellent materials, trimmed with Val. or linen Torchon lace or embroidery. All sizes in this lot. $1.25 values, today . . . 89c

Nainsook Combinations, trimmed with embroidery, lace, beading and ribbon. $1.00 values, today 69c

Corsets and Brassieres

An odd lot of good Corsets, sizes 21 to 30, fresh, clean stock, long, desirable models, 4 or 6 hose supporters. $2.00 values, today . . . 98c

Brassieres and Bust Supporters, all sizes. "Aerine" models of mercerized batiste, long and short, $1 and $1.50 values, today . . . 50c

THEATERS

At the Forsyth.

There may be some theatergoers who stay around home in wet weather, but there are a great many who have not let the rains stop their weekly visit to the popular Forsyth.

The bill this week is a good, well-balanced entertainment from the first act until the pictures close.

The bill for the Glorious Fourth week is going to be one of the best of the season. It will be headed by the Four Hanlons, in a trick scenic and comedy acrobatic novelty. The Hawaiian Quartet, in native songs, dances and music, will be a genuine novelty and there will be a strong comedy contribution from Charles Mason and Company in "The Onion Trust."

At the Lyric.

Miss Emma Bunting continues to please large audiences at the Lyric theater with her unique portrayal of "Lena Rivers," the heroine of Mary J. Holmes' famous novel. In the character of Lena, the little star appears to unusually good advantage, and it is safe to say that in no part which she has yet portrayed has she more thoroughly pleased her admirers. The play also offers excellent opportunity to Mr. Whitaker, who appears to advantage as Durwald Belmont, while the comedy is well taken care of by Mr. Alfred Aldridge as the country bumpkin, Joel Slocum. One of the best bits of acting in the play is offered by Miss Emma Hayner, as Granny Nichols.

WELDON BLAKE GOES TO GORDON INSTITUTE

Welton Blake, a member of the famous Blake family of football players, has been secured by Gordon institute as a member of the faculty and incidentally as athletic director.

Refuses to Pitch.

La Crosse, Wis., June 30.—Before C. A. Barngrover, a pitcher from Quincy, Ill., would sign a contract with the La Crosse team of the Minnesota-Wisconsin League, he made the express stipulation that he would not be required to pitch on ladies' day. Barngrover is a pronounced woman hater, and, although a first-class pitcher, fails to get into faster company because he won't pitch on ladies' days. The La Crosse management agreed to his wish.

Rummage Sale

If yesterday's skies had been clear there would probably be none of these "Rummage Sale" bargains left this morning, for despite the continual rain, many buyers were in attendance and business was brisk.

As it is, there's still good choosing among the several lines quoted below; not all sizes in every lot, to be sure, but quantities so large and varieties so wide that it is more than probable that you'll find something--many things--quite satisfactory and particularly desirable.

The reason for such radical price-reductions on new, seasonable garments is the immediate necessity for making room in our ready-to-wear department for our general offices, which must be moved while rebuilding operations are in progress.

Linene Suits $2.49

KEIBER TWIRLS SHUT-OUT BALL

Holds Volunteers to 3 Widely Scattered Hits.

Bayless Singled in First, Was Sacrificed to Second by Jordan and Scored When Sid Smith Gave Out His Usual Pinch Hit---Score 1 to 0.

By Verner M. Jones.

Nashville, Tenn., June 30.—(Special.) In a game as soggy and depressing as slow grounds and stuffy atmospheric conditions could make it, although fast in point of time consumed, on account of the heavy grounds and light hitting, the Crackers took the opening game of the second series locally from the Volunteers today, shutting out the local squad and managing to pull over a single run at the very threshold of the encounter.

The affair was, more than anything else, a pitchers' combat between Hub Perdue and Eddie Keiber, with honors in favor of the big Atlanta boxman, who allowed but three scattered hits to six for the Sumner county favorite, who, by the way, pitched his first full game for several weeks. Sid Smith, however, did the offensive honors for the visitors by ruining the game in the beginning.

Sid's Pinch Hit.

The Crackers grabbed the game right off the reel, when Bayless, first man to face Perdue, hit one near second too hot for Lynch to handle, was sacrificed to second in neat style by Manager Otto Jordan, and trotted in when Sid Smith performed the feat for which he is justly famous throughout the entire circuit by lining out a pretty hit just at the point when most needed. On a hit-and-run movement, Sid drove a beauty to center, and Bayless, who had a good start from second, scampered home with the first and only run of the entire contest.

So stingy was the big Cracker boxman, that not a Volunteer reached third, although several times a good hit would have tied up the going when a Volunteer waited on second for the safety that failed to materialize.

The game, as a whole, was as fearless as possible, and, with the exception of a double play rendered possible by the slow condition of the field, nothing happened locally that excited any enthusiasm, with the lone exception of a bad decision when Fitzsimmons, who was handling the bases, called Bronkie out at second on a play that appeared so bad from a local standpoint that even Manager Bernhard put in a strong protest.

The only error of the game of either side was a simple miscue by Vinson when Flood picked up [illegible] grounder in the la[illegible] locals' [illegible] rece[illegible]

CRIMSON SHELLS IN FRONT OF BLUE

Harvard Wins 3 Rowing Events From Yale.

Sons of Eli Beaten in Freshman Eight, 'Varsity Four and 'Varsity Eight — Yale Was Outclassed in the Big 'Varsity Race.

New London, Conn., June 30.—The setting sun could not tinge the waters of the Thames this evening with a deeper crimson than they had been dyed by the victories of three Harvard crews. On the broad 4-mile stretch between this city and Gale's Ferry, Harvard met Yale today in their forty-fourth annual rowing regatta. Five lengths was Harvard's margin of success in the 'varsity eight-oared race, three lengths in the freshman eight and four lengths in the 'varsity four. The freshman four race, won by Yale Wednesday evening, was the one sweet drop in Yale's bitter cup of defeat.

It is estimated that 60,000 persons saw the final race. This multitude saw three as thrilling races as ever cut the waters of the Thames.

Here are the times:

'Varsity Eight—Harvard 20.46½, Yale 21.04.

'Varsity Four—Harvard 13.00½, Yale 13.18.

Freshman Eight—Harvard 11.54½, Yale 12.02.

The 'varsity four and freshman eight-oared races, at 2 miles, were rowed upstream this morning.

Harvard Victory Expected.

The victory of the crimson in the big 'varsity race was not unexpected, although Yale for the past ten days had been rated rather more dangerous than it proved.

The Elis held on to the crimson up to the last half mile. Then the superior physical power in the Cambridge boat settled the contest. Harvard's big eight averaged 7 pounds per man heavier than Yale's, and 1 inch taller.

The big race was another demonstration of the cleverness of "Jim" Wray, the Harvard coach, in turning out fast crews composed of big men. The crew which represented Yale this afternoon averaged 171⅝. But Wray had a crew which averaged 179 pounds to the man.

Yale tried to kill off Harvard today by setting a fast pace, and mated the highest stroke that any Yale crew has rowed in years. Harvard rowed a lower stroke on the average than Yale. The very opposite has been true of former Harvard races.

Yale Led at First.

Harvard got a trifle the better of the start, but soon Yale's higher stroke pulled the blues' shell slightly to the front, and at the half mile Yale led by from 12 to 14 feet, and at the mile by two-thirds of a length. Harvard's spurt, however, soon cut down this lead, and at the 1¼ miles the crews were even. Then Harvard's more powerful stroke began to gradually forge her shell ahead. Over the last mile Harvard literally rowed away from Yale, and added more than four lengths more to her lead. Yale's rowing at no time was so finished as that of Harvard.

Among those who witnessed the race were Robert Bacon, United States ambassador to France, whose son, E. C. Bacon, pulled No. 5 in the crimson shell; Secretary of the Treasury Macvagh and Secretary of the Navy George Von L. Meyer, who had a son in the winning Harvard freshman boat.

Roger Cutler, 1911, of Brookline, Mass., stroke in today's 'varsity race, was elected captain of the Harvard crew for next year.

GRAND OLD MAN TWIRLS HIS 499TH VICTORY

Cleveland, Ohio, June 30.—Cy, Young, the Grand Old Man, twirled his 499th big league victory today, when pitching against St. Louis. He twirled remarkable ball, allowing but two hits, while only twenty-eight men faced him during the entire game.

PITTSBURG RAISES WORLD'S PENNANT

Pittsburg, June 30.—Pittsburg exhibited today for the first time the great black and gold flag won in the series with Detroit last year. The pennant-raising was held up until today, because this date marked the anniversary of the opening of Forbes Feld, the new baseball park.

Wagner, making four clean singles in the four times he faced the ball, was a favorite star of the game, which followed.

MERMAID STAKES TO AMELIA JENKS

Winner Quoted at 10 to 1 in the Betting.

Ocean Bound Was Prohibitive Favorite at 1 to 15, But Loafed While in the Stretch and Was Beaten by a Nose.

Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., June 30.—The surprise of the racing at Sheepshead Bay today was the defeat of Ocean Bound, the 1 to 15 favorite, by Amelia Jenks in the Mermaid stakes at 1 mile. Ocean Bound went into the lead soon after the start and led by one and a half length into the stretch. Here he began to loaf and McGee, on Amelia Jenks, gradually moved up and won by a nose in a drive. Summaries:

DISEASES OF MEN

DR. WM. M. BAIRD.

If I have some decided and original views on these diseases it is because I have been continuously in the work for 33 years, and for 25 years have devoted my whole time to these difficult and delicate cases.

I believe that many cases of stricture may be cured with less harsh treatment than they often receive. I believe this because I have demonstrated it again and again.

I believe that Syphilis needs not only the proper remedies, but careful, intelligent, methods and attention to detail in order to cure and cure permanently.

I believe that Chronic Gonorrhoea causes more physical wrecks than any other disease. I believe this because I know. I believe that nothing needs more scientific methods in order to cure, and the man who suffers from it knows, too, that I am right.

I believe in straightforward advertising and honest business methods, combined with conscientious treatment, and if you are in need of advice I will take pleasure in examining you free of charge.

AT LATONIA.

Latonia, Ky., June 30.—The fourth and fifth races held the principal interest at Latonia today, the former as a handicap, and the latter because it was carded to bring together Governor Gray and Lochiel, believed to be the best 2-year-olds at the track.

Friend Harry, a sprinter, long overdue for a victory, scored in the handicap, defeating Right Easy after a nose and nose struggle all the way.

FIRST RACE—Purse $300, 5 furlongs: Sidney R., 112 (Troxler), won; Pennyroyal, 112 (Knapp), second; Ben Uncas, 112 (mountain), third. Time, 1:00 2-5. Butter Ball, Mona Lisa, Golden Ruby, Louis Descognets, Ramazan, Miss Dulin, Plan Ryan and James Mc ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Sidney R., $14.01 win; $3.90 place; $3 show. Penny Royal, $2.70 place; $2.40 show. Ben Uncas, $3.30 show.

SECOND RACE—Purse $300, selling, 6 furlongs: Topsy Robinson, 107 (Rice), won; Hawks Flight, 105 (Scoville), second; Rebel Queen, 107 (Cole), third. Time, 1:13 3-5. Belle of Texas, Very Royal, Kenmare Queen, Dandy Dancer, Sorrowful, Sequence and Refined ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Topsy Robinson, $10.50 win; $4.70 place; $3.70 show. Hawks Flight, $5 place; $3 show. Rebel Queen, $3 show.

THIRD RACE—Selling, purse $300, 6 furlongs: Dolly Bultman, 105 (Ganz), won; Ethel Day, 105 (Jackson), second; Marbles, 112 (Grand), third. Time, 1:14. Procla, Lucille D., Hurlock, Louis K., Splendid and Nettie Traver ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Dolly Bultman $4.80 wid; $3.70 place; $2.90 show. Ethel Day $9.40 place; $5.40 show. Marbles $3.50 show.

FOURTH RACE—Handicap, purse $500, 6 furlongs: Friend Harry, 108½ (Troxler), won; Right Easy, 115 (Knapp), second; Countless, 110 (Rice), third. Time, 1:12 2-5. Duquesne, T. M. Green and Crystal Maid ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Friend Harry $10.60 win; $4 place; $2.80 show. Right Easy $3.50 place; $250 show. Countless $2.70 show.

FIFTH RACE—Handicap purse $400, 5½ furlongs: Gov. Gray, 107 (Kennedy), won; Oracle, 107 (Rice), second; Lochiel, 112 (Knapp), third. Time, 1.06 3-5. Alice A. Dale, Volthorpe, Messenger Boy and Lady Ormicant also ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: Gov. Gray $3.30 win; $2.90 place; $2.40 show. Oracle $6.50 place; $3.40 show. Lochiel $2.70 show.

SIXTH RACE—Selling, purse $300, 1 1-16 miles: J. W. Carter, 105 (Warren), won; Lady McNally, 100 (Dryer), second; Elizabethan, 102 (Ganz), third. Time, 1:47. Cambridge, Southern Gold, Ancon, Don Diaz and Hatchie Coon ran.

Two-dollar mutuels paid: J. W. Carter $9.90 win; $4.80 place; $3.60 show. Lady McNally $7.30 place; $5.30 show. Elizabethan $4 show.

Latonia Entries for Today.

BIG FELLOWS READY TO FIGHT

watch the fun. He was persuaded to hammer away at the bag for a few minutes and the wallops he delivered were of sledge-hammer force. The old champion is not in training these days, however, and he soon stopped, puffing and gasping after a moment's work.

Johnson went at the bag again. Almost the first blow drove it from its moorings over the crowd.

"Come on," called Jack, reaching out his hands for the boxing gloves.

Al Kaufmann responded and in a moment the pair were at at, Al boring in as though he was trying to knock the champion out. Kaufman tried all his tricks to make the champion open up, but Jack stopped everything that came. They kept it up for four rounds, and it is doubtful whether the films will show that Kaufman landed a single blow.

Johnson's defense seemed impregnable. His elbows, shoulders and arms formed a barricade that nothing Kaufmann had seemed fast enough to pass.

Johnson Shows Great Strength.

When Kaufman retired, "Big Kid" Cotton plunged in. Jack went back at Cotton with some snap. They wrestled around the ring, the champion displaying his great strength more than once by hurling Cotton away from him as though he were a lightweight. In the second round, the blood spurted from Cotton's lips from one of Jack's left jabs. A little later the champion ducked a swing and the sparring partner sprawled on the floor from the force of his own blow. They went four rounds before Johnson signalled the end of the show.

As he walked toward his dressing room, Johnson was asked what work he contemplated tomorrow.

"I am through," he said. "This closes my work."

Governor Dickerson again visited the Johnson camp. He seemed fascinated by the cleverness of the negro and watched every move with admiration.

Army of Visitors.

The army of visitors assumed the proportions of an invasion today. During the evening hour, Tex Rickard's hotel presented the busiest scene Reno has seen in many years. Reno is busy welcoming the visitors and the clubs and civic societies are outdoing each other in hospitality.

The Nevada Editorial Association has planned a unique reception to the host of writers for Saturday night. Nearly every member of the newspaper fraternity here who has achieved distinction in one part of the country or another as an entertainer is slated to appear. The audience will be composed almost entirely of men whose fame as sporting writers or as descriptive writers is widely known.

Betting Still Light.

Although the fight is but three days off, the local betting continues very light.

Tom Corbett, the official betting commissioner, is now on the ground, and although he has secured quarters in one of the largest up-town gambling halls, and has placarded the walls with flaring signs, stating he is prepared to transact business, there was little business.

An independent pool room close to the commissioner's headquarters is showing a little more activity. Big bets were placed by members of the Johnson camp today. Wagers of $1,500 to $2,000 that Johnson would win and $500 at even money that Jeffries would not put the quietus on the champion in 18 rounds, were placed. A San Francisco business man is said to have made a bet of $1,000 to $600 on Jeffries.

Children Under 10 Barred.

No child under 10 years of age will be allowed to enter the arena for the Jeffries-Johnson fight and no child between 10 and 15 will be permitted to witness next Monday's battle unless accompanied by a chaperone of mature age.

These two orders were promulgated by Promoter Tex Rickard today. Rickard explained that he was strongly opposed to children of tender years attending the championship match. He thought, though, that a young person between 10 and 15 was no longer a child and should have, if duly chaperoned, the privilege of seeing the two greatest pugilists of the age clash in what may prove to be last big ring event.

It is said there will be no $5 seats, as was first intended. The lowest price at which the topmost rear seats can now be purchased is $10 and unless the sale shows signs of falling off, it is understood none will be offered any lower and there will be no boxes. Women attending the fight will not be able to separate themselves from the main body of spectators.

It Will Be Great Fight, Says Fitz.

Seattle, Wash., June 30.—Bob Fitzsimmons, ex-champion heavyweight, arrived in Seattle today on his way to Reno to see the Jeffries-Johnson fight. Fitzsimmons hopes that Jeffries will win, and believes that he will, if he is in good condition.

"You'll see a fight that is a fight," said Fitzsimmons. "Jeffries never has hit a man as hard as he can, but he will not be under restraint with Johnson. When Johnson faces the only man who ever beat me fairly and honestly, he will have the toughest argument of his career."

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

STORM IN STOCKS WAS SEVERE ONE

Belief That Purging of List Affords Relief.

Railroad Stocks Were the Chief Sufferers, the Union Pacific Losing Twenty Points During the Past Week.

New York, June 30.—So violent a crash in prices of stocks as that which culminated today is not to be explained by the surface causes which have been advanced from day to day, such as the impaired spring wheat prospect, the reduction of railroad rates on the transcontinental roads, ordered by the interstate commerce commission and similar explanations. Deeper causes are indicated and were sought by inquirers in the financial district today. From the high point of last Thursday, Union Pacific sold today at a decline of 20 points and from that maximum there was varying losses through the whole list of active stocks.

The June advance followed the agreement reached between President Taft and the railroad presidents to submit the proposed rate advances to the operation of the new railroad law, and the movement by the representatives of the great private banks to secure assents from great shipping interests to the proposed freight rate advances.

The violent relapse which has followed brings forward the operation of more general causes, which it was supposed had progressed so far toward correction as to pave the way for a general recovery. The stock market of today and yesterday showed how drastic a readjustment remained to be made. That the process of correction may yet have to extend beyond the speculative field of the market is an inference that was common today.

Probable dividend reductions by some of the railroads was freely discussed as events foreshadowing the action of the stock market. The outcome follows the conviction of the unstable conditions which were the outgrowth of the premature rush of the recovery from the crisis of three years ago.

There has been a conviction that extensive commitments in speculative holdings of stocks were carried through the culmination of last year's rise in October, have been obstinately held over since, in the faith that each successive downturn in the market was a simple reaction destined to be followed by a resumption of the march of progress. It was current belief that market pools involved in such holdings were being liquidated yesterday and today, in response to the imperative admonition of authorities in the banking and financial world, who believed that the credit position must be strengthened and prepared for the exigencies of the coming fall. The process proved a painful one and involved conclusive price adjustments. The quieter tone in the later dealings was proof of the relief already offered.

Money on call went no higher than 3½ per cent in spite of the disturbance of loans connected with the day's impairment of margins. The substantial recovery and the strong tone of the closing was evidence of the relief afforded by the day's purging and was taken as a promise that the storm had spent its force so far as the stock market is concerned. Conditions outside the stock market, of which its action may be a herald, will be watched with attention.

JULY COTTON MADE VERY RAPID ADVANCE

Sold at Gain of About $1.50 Per Bale---General List Made Advances.

New York, June 30.—The feature in the cotton market today was a rapid advance of about $1.50 per bale in July contracts, owing to covering by Wall street houses who, apparently, found very little for sale. Otherwise business was generally quiet and the new crop positions scored only moderate gains, with the general list closing very steady at a net advance of 5@22 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 2@8 points, in response to steady cables, and the weather map showed no precipitation of consequence in Texas, while there was further rain in the eastern belt. At first, the market showed no traces of excitement, but shortly after the opening brokers believed to be operating for Wall street houses, entered the market as buyers of July. There was a little selling of this position by spot houses on a scale up, but the offerings from this source appeared to be inadequate, and before there was a check to the upward movement, July had sold at 15.42, or 30 points above the closing figures of last night. Later positions, meanwhile, had reached a net gain of about 5@14 points, August feeling the July strength in a greater measure than the new crop months. The demand appeared to be a little less urgent at this level and with indications that the bull leaders were letting go a little July, the market reacted several points from the best under realizing, but firmed up again in the late trading, when August and later months made new high prices for the day, on bull support of August, and covering of new crop shows, owing to private reports of heavy rains in the eastern belt.

Receipts at the ports, 4,711 against 4,925 bales last week and 2,702 last year. For the week 20,000 bales against 23,318 last week, and 31,138 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 2,956 against 624 last year, and at Houston 161 against 765 last year.

Cotton, spot, closed quiet; 30 points higher; middling uplands 15.35; middling gulf, 15.60; sales, 13,162 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 30.—Spot cotton steady, ⅛ higher; sales, on the spot, 120 bales; low ordinary, 11 7-16, nominal; ordinary, 12¼, nominal; good ordinary, 13 11-16; strict good ordinary, 14 1-16; low middling, 14⅜; strict low middling, 14⅝; middling, 14⅞; strict middling, 15 1-16; good middling, 15¼; strict good middling, 15 7-16; middling fair, 16 9-16; middling fair to fair, 15 15-16; fair, 16 5-16, nominal. Receipts, 2,956; stock, 62,934.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 2 to 5 points. Cables were slightly better than expected and the weather map was none too good, showing, as it did, very little rain in the western half of the cotton belt, and continued heavy rains in the eastern half. Only a moderate amount of business was done in the early trading with shorts the best buyers probably in the way of evening up over tomorrow's bureau report on condition. At the end of the first half hour of trading, the more active months were 5 to 6 points up. August displayed the most activity.

In the afternoon session, the market firmed up again on reports of heavy rains in the central and eastern portions of the belt and prices were put to new high levels for the day on some months, the list standing 8 to 9 points over yesterday's closing at 3 o'clock.

The close was very steady at an advance of 6 to 9 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 30.—Bleached goods were advanced ¼ to 8⅝ for Fruit of the Loom, to take effect tomorrow. The stock goods were all sold and many new orders were returned to be charged at the new price. The trade today showed a little more breadth, the inquiry being better. Raw silk is firm.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, June 30.—Closing: Cotton, spot in limited demand; prices 9 points higher; American middling fair 8.29; good middling 7.99; middling 7.85; low middling 7.75; good ordinary 7.49; ordinary 7.24. The sales of the day were 2,000 bales, of which 600 were for speculation and export, and included 1,600 American. Receipts 24,000 bales, including 23,500 American. Futures opened and closed quiet and steady.

Argo, Jester & Co.

New York, June 30.—The chief feature of the market was the strength of July, which scattered sharply on a demand which, according to some represented scattered short covering, but according to others an effort to advance prices with a view to attracting more cotton here. The rest of the market showed very slight changes. It would, of course, be folly for any trader to follow such an advance as no doubt bulls are in position to bring about a sharp decline whenever it suits their purpose. Ideas of the report are being scaled down as the average of the private reports shows an improvement of approximately only 1 per cent. A report of 83 would about meet current expectations and would hardly have any important effect on the market. With the stock market demoralized and trade everywhere depressed it is hard to find any good reason for buying, but the short side looks even less attractive.

Liverpool is due to open 5 up on the old and 4 up on the new crop.

Metals.

New York, June 30.—Standard copper weak; spot, $11.75@12.10; July, August and September, $11.75@12.00. London steady. Spot £54 10s, futures £55 3s 9d. Arrivals reported at New York, 55 tons; custom house returns show exports of 140 tons, making 15,180 so far this month. Lake copper, $12.62½@12.87½; electrolytic, $12.25@12.50, and casting, $12.12½@12.37½.

Tin strong; spot, $33.25@33.50; July and August, $33.12½@33.50 and September, $33.15@33.50. Sales, five tons; spot at 33.20; London strong; spot, £150 18s. Futures, £151 5s.

Lead firm; spot, $4.40@4.45, New York; $4.22½@4.30, East St. Louis; London, lower, £12 11s 3d.

Spelter firmer, spot $5.50@5.60, New York; $5.00@5.07½, East St. Louis. London unchanged £22 5s.

Iron unchanged, 48s 9d for Cleveland warrants in London. The local market was quiet. No. 1 foundry northern, $16.50@16.75; No. 2, $16.00@16.25; No. 1 southern and No. 1 southern soft, $16.25@16.75.

St. Louis, June 30.—Lead firm, at $4.20. Spelter higher at $5.05.

Sugar and Molasses.

New York, June 30.—Raw sugar firm; Muscovado, 89 test, 3.80; centrifugal, 96 test, 4.30; molasses sugar, 89 test, 3.55; refined quiet; crushed, 9.85; granulated, 5.15; powdered, 5.25.

Molasses quiet; New Orleans, open kettle, 32@42.

All grades of refined sugar were advanced 10c a hundred pounds today.

GRAIN TAKES TUMBLE ON GOOD CROP NEWS

Wheat Closed Nearly 3 Cents Lower---Corn and Oats Nearly a Cent Off.

Chicago, June 30.—Wall street weakness appeared to be as much of a bearish influence on the wheat market today as the same cause was exactly the opposite in the first stages of the northwestern crop scare. Explanation seemed to be in the fact that the grain trade is now figuring on the wherewithal to handle the coming crops. General selling of wheat had another powerful reason in a good rainfall at Bismarck, N. D., suggesting a general breaking of the drought which has threatened the yield in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Closing prices were 2½ to 2¾c net lower. Corn and oats, respectively, showed losses of ¾@⅞c and ⅝@⅞c. Provisions were unchanged to 5c down.

Time after time the wheat market rallied, but in every instance the price weakened and worked lower. The official forecast was for showers and cooler weather in the northwest tonight and tomorrow. The Kansas crop report exploded theories of extremists regarding winter wheat and there were advices from the harvesters showing, unanimously, fine results.

Corn speculators showed a remarkable change of front in many cases, and there was a good scattered commission demand besides. Feed shortage in the northwest and general shortage in the hay crop formed the chief argument for buying corn. The decline scored was ascribed to the influence of wheat. September fluctuated between 59⅝@59¾c and 60½c, with the close ⅝c net lower at 59¾c. The cash market was firm. No. 2 yellow closed at 60¾@61¼c.

With Kansas promising the largest crop of oats ever raised in that state, longs unloaded today and some of the large sellers of wheat took a hand also on the bear side. Variations for the September option reached high and low limits at 38¾c and 38c, finishing ⅝c off at 38½c.

Trade in hog products consisted chiefly in the cleaning up of July speculative deals. Final quotations were 5c less expensive for pork and lard, with ribs unchanged to a shade below.

COMFORTABLE DAY FOR DR. R. M. ROSE

Physicians Are Hopeful for His Ultimate Recovery.

Dr. R. M. Rose, who is lying critically ill at his home on Peachtree street, was reported to have spent a fairly comfortable day yesterday and was resting quietly last night. Dr. Rose has been suffering from a severe cold, which turned into pneumonia last Friday, since which time his condition has been serious, although the attending physicians state that his remarkable constitution, tremendous vitality and the brave fight he is making against the disease are telling strongly in his favor and are very hopeful for his ultimate recovery.

For a great many years Dr. Rose has been one of the most familiar figures in Atlanta. Born in Connecticut, he came south while still a very young man and at the outbreak of the war between the states enlisted and fought with honor for the confederacy.

Eminently successful in a business way, he has also proved his foresight in many instances and until his present illness has been able to attend personally to his large real estate interests in Atlanta. He has ever been one of the most generous of Atlantans.

For a great many years an influential Mason, he was one of the foremost of the prominent men who organized Georgia lodge, was an honored past master and also held high positions in the grand state lodge.

His personality has endeared him to a host of friends who have most solicitously followed the every change of his present condition. His business methods, too, have made his name a true synonym for all that is best and highest in commercial transactions.

Dr. Rose, with his wife, recently celebrated his seventy-third birthday with his son, Randolph, now of Chattanooga. While he seemed well and strong at that time, he has never fully recovered from an attack of grip last spring. His children are now with him.

PEACHTREE STREET MAY BE WIDENED

A movement is on foot to widen Peachtree street between Ellis and Baker streets, and the work of widening may be carried still further.

Under the plan proposed, Peachtree will be made 70 feet wide at the point named, and this will make the street one of the widest in the city. It is proposed that all abutting property owners shall give 10 feet frontage, and that the county will be asked to do the necessary work of grading and paving.

E. W. Alfriend, who is behind the movement, states that he has the cooperation of practically nearly all of the property owners. When the street is made 70 feet wide, the sidewalks will be 15 feet in width.

It is believed that this plan, if carried out, will make of Peachtree street, one of the best and most desirable of business thoroughfares and that real estate values will go up.

REUNION IS HELD BY CLASS OF 1907

Following a theater party at the Forsyth, the class of 1907 of the Boys' High school held its third annual reunion last night at the Cafe Durand, 26 members being present.

It was decided that a reunion be held every year on the fourth Wednesday in June, the place of meeting to be selected by the officers. Interesting talks were made by the following: W. L. Terrell, Hugh Fuller, W. W. Rice, Turner Middlebrooks, Charles Kuchinski, John Blodgett and Tom Abbott.

The following officers were unanimously elected: Vernon Styles, president; H. N. Fuller, vice president; Howard Porter, secretary and treasurer.

MOTHER ASKS COURT'S AID TO REGAIN HER DAUGHTER

Charging that S. R. Welch "is illegally detaining in his possession" her 15-year-old daughter, Mrs. Fannie Hudgins has filed a petition of habeas corpus in the superior court. Mrs. Hudgins states that she is the sole surviving parent of the girl, whose name is Lizzie May Hudgins, but that Welch "has taken away from her" the child, and though she has frequently, since January, demanded the girl, and has tried to induce him to give her up, he has repeatedly refused to do so.

The petition says that S. R. Welch pretends to have been appointed guardian of the girl; and "that he induced, by fraud and coercion, the said child to select him as her guardian; that Welch is not related by blood or marriage in any way" to the girl, and that "he is not a fit and proper person to act as guadiaan."

Mrs. Hudgins states further that when she filed a petition in the court of the ordinary to have the letters of guardianship revoked, Welch "undertook to remove her child out of the custody of the court, and that "he now pretends she is residing in another state, and attempts to take her testimony to be used on the trial of the case in a distant state and city," and to be examined out of the presence of her mother, while the girl is "under the domination of Welch's influence."

"Because of her poverty" Mrs. Hudgins says she is unable to "employ counsel to represent her and show the real truth in the distant city."

Judge J. T. Pendleton signed the writ of habeas corpus, requiring the girl's presence in court on June 27, but the case was not taken up.

The girl, it is understood, is in Jacksonville, and Welch was not in the city Thursday, according to the statement of Daley, Chambers & Smith, Mrs. Hudgins' attorneys. It is believed he has gone for the girl in order to comply with the writ of habeas corpus.

13-YEAR-OLD BOY ELOPES WITH A GIRL 17 YEARS OLD

Louisville, Ill., June 30.—Frank L. Farris, the 13-year-old son of Charles L. Farris, formerly a state representative from this city, eloped with Miss Nell Krutsinger, 19 years old, daughter of Sim Krutsinger, a local business man. They were married on Saturday in some place outside the state, returning here the following day. The marriage was kept secret until yesterday. The romance began a year ago, when the two were going to school together. Owing to the law in this state, they had to go elsewhere to get a license. Master Farris is the youngest "married man" in the state, perhaps in the whole country. He and his bride will reside with his parents in this city.

FURNITURE GONE AND HUSBAND, TOO

Alleging that her husband stripped her house of all its furniture during her absence and left her, Clara Jenkins yesterday filed suit for divorce against James Jenkins. The petitioner says that Jenkins became very angry with her because she refused to sign a deed selling their little home in order that the defendant might have money to waste in intoxicating liquors and extravagance, and that he struck her several times over the head with a stick, ordering her to leave the house. When she returned next day she found all her furniture and her husband gone.

The petition states further that the defendant came home late at night in a drunken condition, broke down the door of her room, dragged the petitioner from her bed and beat her.

The usual status of affairs was reversed in the suit of T. C. Gallaway for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Eloise Gallaway, the petition charging that she often "stayed out late at night, coming in at 12 and 2 o'clock in an intoxicated condition."

Their mother dead and their father in jail in Gwinnett county awaiting trial for murder, George Barnett and Johnnie Barnett, two little boys, aged 11 years and 13 years, got into trouble once too often and were arraigned before Judge Andrew W. Calhoun on the charge of simple larceny. The boys' grandmother and their uncle appeared in court, and said that they could do nothing at all with the boys, and that since the mother's death they had tried to take care of the boys while their father was in jail, but that the homeless children were uncontrollable, running the streets and always getting into mischief. Judge Calhoun decided that the reformatory was the best place for the boys, and they, with one other, Emmett Brantley, were sent there.

Emmett Brantley has been charged with various things at divers times, being accused, among other things, of training his setter dog to steal chickens.

Walter Watson, J. M. Markley, Jr., and Percy W. Jones made application yesterday for a charter under the name of the Atlantic Sales Company. Business, real estate. Capital stock, $2,000.

L. B. McCrory has filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, charging that he is being illegally restrained at the police station by Chief of Police Jennings at the request of the chief of police of Knoxville, Tenn. When he offered to give bail, the privilege was refused.

TWO BOY BURGLARS WORK WASHINGTON

Washington, June 30.—Two well-dressed young men, 17 and 18 years old, were caught before dawn today leaving one of the prominent apartment houses in this city, which they admitted they entered for purposes of robbery. They were Eley B. Runyon, who says he is the son of Mrs. Emily E. C. Runyon, a physician, of Richmond, Va., and Julian D. Wishard.

Each of the youthful burglars was armed with a revolver and they had a complete burglars' kit, including a dark lantern. A recent robbery of the home of Edward A. Moseley, secretary of the interstate commerce commission, has been traced to the boys.

The boys said they came to this city Tuesday night and registering at a hotel, went out shortly after midnight to operate in a fashionable section of the city. Runyon boasts of his exploits in various cities of the west, saying he had been trained as a burglar by an adept, who is now serving time. Wishard claims that he recently met Runyon in Atlanta, where he has relatives, and traveled with him without knowing his occupation until the two came to this city.

The boys will be given a hearing in court tomorrow.

An Atlanta Boy.

Julian D. Wishard, the young man arrested early today at Washington on the charge of burglary, is the son of Julian R. Wishard, a printer, who is well known and highly respected in this city. Julian Wishard is well known in Atlanta.

Was in Georgia Reformatory.

Richmond, Va., June 30.—Young Runyon, under arrest in Washington for alleged burglary, is presumably the son of Mrs. Emily C. Runyon, a practicing physician of good standing in this city. He got into trouble on a somewhat similar charge in Savannah, Georgia, not long ago, and it is understood that the day his mother obtained an order from Governor Brown for his transfer from a Georgia reformatory farm, to which he had been committed, to one in Maryland, he made his escape, and has since been in Atlanta. He is regarded here as decidedly abnormal in mental and moral development, and his mother has much sympathy in Richmond because of his waywardness.

BIDS ARE CONSIDERED FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Finance Committee of Board of Education Holds a Meeting.

At the meeting of the finance committee of the board of education yesterday afternoon, bids on drawing material and school supplies were opened. The committee will recommend that the board accept the bid of the West Lumber Company for lumber for the Battle Hill school; that the bid of Montag Bros. on drawing paper be accepted; the bid of the Milton Bradley Company on construction paper be accepted. The board will recommend that Miss Getz, director of drawing, choose drawing pencils between the pencil of the National Pencil Company and the Dixon Pencil Company.

Dr. Claude A. Smith, the city bacteriologist, has been asked to buy in open market samples of the product of the West Disinfectant Company and the Frederick Disinfectant Company, and make analyses. Upon his report will depend which shall be used in the schools.

Tennis Meet Postponed.

The tennis tournament at the Piedmont Driving Club was postponed yesterday on account of the weather. The matches will be played today, weather permitting.

BEST ROAD SCORE MADE BY PREMIER

Chalmers Car Stood Second at the End of Glidden Tour.

Chicago, June 30.—Premier No. 1 today finished the long Glidden tour from Cincinnati by way of Dallas, with the best road score, but the winner will not be determined until the technical committee of the American Automobile Association finishes its examination of the cars still in the contest at the finish. Premier No. 1 was penalized nine points in all, while the Chamers No. 5 stands second with 39 points road penalty.

No road penalties were announced at the end of today's run from Davenport, Iowa. The 2,850-mile run was finished when the cars reached Garfield Park, Chicago, about 3 p. m. Six cars finished in the Glidden contest, while five checked in for the Chicago trophy.

Several protests were filed with the referee against the Premier No. 1. It was alleged that the Premier car carried an auxiliary oil pump, which is not a part of the stock cars.

F. E. Edwards, of the technical committee was sent to Indianapolis today to inspect Premier stock cars.

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT IN JOYFUL MEETING

Rudolph. It is just bully. I must tell Mrs. Roosevelt about this."

"Jimmy" Sloan, of the secret service, who climbed precipices, swam creeks and ran foot races with Mr. Roosevelt for seven years, came in for a hearty greeting.

Toward 1 o'clock word came that the colonel would start for Senator Lodge's home at Nanhant at 2:45 p. m. His way to Beverly led through parts of Lynn, Swampscott and Salem, and in each of these places the colonel was quickly recognized and cheered.

At the entrance of the grounds in which the Taft cottage is located, a crowd of a hundred or more persons had gathered. The secret service lines, usually drawn about the Taft cottage alone, were extended today to th entrance to the entire Burgess Point section, fully a quarter of a mile away. There everyone was stopped and turned back. Several ladies calling to pay their respects to Mrs. Taft were turned back with the rest.

Taft and Roosevelt Embrace.

President Taft was sitting in the library of his home, going over the mail with Assistant Secretary Forster when he heard the "honk, honk" of the Lodge automobile out front. He dropped everything and hurried out of the front door onto the porch. Colonel Roosevelt was out of the machine in a moment, and as the two men met their arms unconsciously went toward each other and their hands rested upon each other's shoulders.

It was some little time before the embrace was interrupted. Then President Taft, warmly greeted Senator Lodge. Soon the president and former president drew apart, while the others looked on their tete-a-tete with smiling interest.

Peals of Laughter.

What of politics entered into the conversation, what words of reminiscence, what exchanges of experiences during the past sixteen months passed between the two men no one on the veranda other than the two old friends themselves was permitted to know.

There were so many peals of laughter, so many slaps upon the back, so much cordiality that it was apparent there had been no suggestion of even the remotest conflict of views.

Colonel Roosevelt was asked if he would visit Beverly again.

"I don't know that I shall," he replied.

Vigorous Denial by Roosevelt.

Nahant, Mass., June 30.—A vigorous declaration that he had not injected himself in the New York state political situation to the extent of endeavoring to persuade Governor Hughes to make a third gubernatorial campaign was made today by Colonel Roosevelt, following his visit to President Taft at Beverly.

The attention of Mr. Roosevelt was called to the statement printed in a morning paper in which Colonel Roosevelt was quoted as telling Governor Hughes yesterday that the governor was the only man who could save New York state to the republican party. When the former president read the clipping he asked if the report had been intended as a joke, and then declared with emphasis and vigor:

"It is wholly untrue. Utterly preposterous. I never said any such thing. There is not a word of truth in it."

GAIN OF SOUTH IN POPULATION

Washington, June 30.—That the census of 1910 will show the southern states, including Missouri and Oklahoma, to have made a gain in population of 21 per cent since 1900 is the estimate of the southern commercial congress. The congress estimates that population to be 32,415,297. The gain of other states of the union during the same period is estimated by the congress to have been 18½ per cent.

The five sates of the south which have made the greatest gain in population, according to the estimate, are Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Georgia and Alabama. Oklahoma is said to have gained 1,250,000. The figures were based upon provisional estimates of the census bureau.

Mayer Wins Third.

"Scissors" Mayer, the ex-Tech twirler that the Crackers turned over to Fayetteville, in the Eastern Carolina League, won his third straight game for that team on Wednesday.

Col. Bowen to Be Tried.

Manila, June 30.—Brigadier General Ramsay D. Potts, commanding the department of Luzon, today ordered a court-martial to try Colonel F. H. C. Bowen, of the Twelfth inaftnry, stationed at Fort William McKinley. It is alleged that Colonel Bowen violated the regulations against the unauthorized use of an army transport in securing passage for a person not a member of his immediate family.

Rebels Take Custom House.

Bluefields, Nicaragua, June 30.—The government custom house at Pearl Lagoon was taken last night by the rebels under General Masis. The officers in the custom service were captured, as was General Matuty, who was formerly associated with the revolutionary cause. Estrada's men also captured a large cannon and some provisions and ammunition.
